FROM THE DIRECTOR OF THE DIVISION OF FISH AND WILDLIFE

Pat with his grandson, Jake, and dog, Storm.

With the coming of fall and the great migration of waterfowl comes the age-old tradition of hunting with family and friends. Whether it's deer, rabbit or waterfowl the excitement of going that first day rivals getting up on Christmas morning as a child. The ability to spend this time with family and friends only increases the excitement.

This tradition is no different for me and my family, and the last couple years its only become grander as four generations of us are now hunting together. I have been afforded the gift to be able to hunt with my father, 92 years young, along with my son and my grandson. Experiencing this time-honored tradition, spending time in a duck blind, swapping stories of hunts gone by and teaching my grandson not only the traditions and knowledge of hunting, but also the importance of sharing these experiences with family and friends.

When you go out this season take a family member or a friend and share the experience of hunting and the great outdoors. It's not about the bag limit, but the comradery and enjoying nature at her best. Pass the tradition to the next generation and the great appreciation you have for Delaware's natural resources.

The Division of Fish and Wildlife provides numerous opportunities for you to hunt on approximately 68,000 acres of public lands throughout the state. The wildlife areas featured on pages 40-42 of this guide offer a variety of diverse hunting opportunities. Take the time to experience what Delaware's Division of Fish and Wildlife has to offer you.

I wish you all the best and have a safe and exciting hunting season.

In the meantime, federal duck stamps purchased online from another state will be accepted in Delaware. For more information, please visit <https://www.fws.gov/service/buy-duck-stamp-or-e-stamp>

SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBER AND HUNTING LICENSES

The Delaware Division of Child Support Services has the authority, under Federal Welfare Reform Legislation (Title 42 of the US Code, Section 666 (a) (13)), to collect Social Security Numbers for individuals who purchase recreational hunting and fishing licenses. For more information go to <https://de.gov/huntinglicense>

OBTAINING A DUPLICATE HUNTING LICENSE

Duplicate licenses may be printed free of charge by logging into your Digital DNREC Account at: <https://de.gov/DigitalDNREC>. If you do not have a Digital DNREC Account or need more information please call the Recreational Licensing Office at (302) 739-9918 or email dfwreclic@delaware.gov.

ONLINE LICENSING

Delaware maintains a fully automated recreational licensing system. Sportsmen can purchase and print licenses from our website 24 hours a day 7 days a week by visiting <https://de.gov/DigitalDNREC> with a compatible computer and printer. We also partner with over 40 Licensing Agents where licenses can be purchased including our Dover Fish and Wildlife office at 89 Kings Highway. A complete listing of Licensing Agents can be found on our website or by calling 302-739-9918.

HUNTER EDUCATION VERIFICATION

Please do not wait until the last minute to purchase your hunting license. Hunters born after January 1, 1967, are required to have verified proof of completing hunter education before purchasing a hunting license. If purchasing your hunting license online through our Digital DNREC licensing system at <https://de.gov/DigitalDNREC>, you will be asked to upload a copy of your hunter education card if your card has not already been verified by the Hunter Education Program. Hunters who completed hunter education in Delaware must enter their Hunter Safety Number and the Hunter Education Program will verify the number. Verification of hunter education information may take up to 5 business days, but it is often completed sooner.

If you need to purchase your hunting license immediately and cannot wait to have your hunter education information verified by the Hunter Education Program, please visit an authorized Licensing Agent. A list of authorized Licensing Agents can be found here: <https://de.gov/LicenseAgents>. At the Licensing Agent, you will need to provide a copy of your hunter education card to the agent who will verify that you have provided proof of hunter safety for the current hunting season only.

In the future, to avoid delays when purchasing a hunting license in Delaware, please upload a copy of your hunter education card to your profile in our Digital DNREC licensing system at <https://de.gov/DigitalDNREC>. Your hunter education card will be verified by our Hunter Education Program and will be added permanently to your Digital DNREC profile.

DIGITAL LICENSES AND DELAWARE WATERFOWL (DUCK) STAMPS

A recently passed law modernizes hunting and trapping licenses and Delaware waterfowl (duck) stamps to allow digital formats. Hunters and Trappers may now possess their Delaware hunting and trapping licenses and Delaware duck stamp in either digital or paper form when hunting or trapping in Delaware. Delaware deer hunters are still required to carry a paper copy of their Deer Harvest Report Card and properly complete the card in ink upon harvest of a deer and prior to moving it from the site of the harvest. Additionally, hunters aged 16 or older are reminded that there is no digital option for the Federal Migratory Bird Hunting and Conservation Stamp, which must be signed in ink across the face of the stamp and be in their possession while hunting waterfowl and other migratory birds.

LICENSE EXEMPT HUNTERS/TRAPPERS

Hunters and trappers that are license exempt are required to obtain an annual License Exempt Number (LEN) at no cost. Hunters and Trappers shall obtain a separate LEN for each activity if they engage in both. While not legally required to purchase a license, those hunters and trappers that are eligible to be license exempt may purchase a license so that their purchase can help direct conservation and management efforts for wildlife and the habitats they support. For those individuals that are exempt from purchasing a license but choose to do so, we thank you very much for your support to conservation. If a license exempt hunter or trapper chooses to purchase a license they shall not obtain a LEN.

The LEN system was created so that opinions and game harvests of license exempt hunters and trappers could be evaluated and considered when establishing new statutes, regulations and policies. If you obtain this LEN, use it whenever you are asked for your license number such as for registering a deer, obtaining a HIP number or purchasing additional deer tags or permits. License exempt hunters that are authorized to hunt deer, receive five deer tags at no cost. For more information about deer tags and the associated Deer Harvest Report Card, please see page 17.

License exempt hunters not purchasing a hunting license who use a motor vehicle to access State Wildlife Areas must purchase a Conservation Access Pass (pages 9 and 10). Additionally, all license exempt hunters must purchase a State Wildlife Area Waterfowl Blind and Deer Stand Permit if they are using those items. This permit is not required on the Youth and Non-ambulatory Hunt days. License exempt hunters are not required to purchase a Delaware Waterfowl Stamp unless they are Maryland residents utilizing the exemption to hunt snow geese in Delaware and then the stamp is required. Furthermore, license exempt hunters are not required to purchase a federal waterfowl stamp unless they are 16 years of age or older. Lastly, all license exempt hunters that will hunt migratory birds must obtain a free HIP number and those hunters pursuing snow geese during the Conservation Order must also register for a free permit number.

You can obtain your annual LEN and other items described above at <https://de.gov/DigitalDNREC> or by visiting any location that hunting licenses are sold. For a complete list of license agents, please visit: <https://de.gov/LicenseAgents>. LENs are no longer available by calling the Hunter Registration System. NOTE: If a hunter or trapper is exempt from purchasing a license for reasons related to military service, please contact the recreational licensing office at 302-739-9918 for more information on how to obtain your LEN as you may need to provide supporting documentation.

If you have problems with these systems, call 302-735-3600 or 302-739-9918 during normal business hours (8:00am - 4:30pm) Monday - Friday. For questions on LEN eligibility requirements please contact the recreational licensing office at 302-739-9918 or <https://dnrec.alpha.delaware.gov/fish-wildlife/licenses/exemptions/>.

DELAWARE GUIDE LICENSE

All individuals receiving monetary or in-kind compensation for providing personal guide services to hunters are required to have a Delaware Guide License. License holders must be 18 years of age or older.

Persons acquiring a guide license must not have been convicted for violations of any wildlife or fisheries statutes or regulations within the last three years prior to applying for a Delaware Guide License.

All persons possessing a Delaware Guide License are required to complete and submit an annual report to the Division within seven days after the close of the season to include the following information which must be readily available for inspection by enforcement officers: full name of each hunter, address of each hunter in the party, hunting license number for each hunter, date, number and species of each animal harvested, location of hunts and the name and license number of the guide.

The guide shall retain all hunting field records for a period of three years.

A resident or non-resident Guide license is valid as a Guide and a Hunting license. A separate hunting license is not required.

A non-resident shall be exempt from the guide licensing requirement only while guiding hunters for snow geese (light geese), provided:

- The non-resident is properly licensed to guide in another state or Canadian province which extends the same exemption to Delaware residents;
- The non-resident guide purchases obtains a free License Exempt Number, a Delaware migratory waterfowl (duck) stamp and obtains a Delaware H.I.P. permit;
- The non-resident resides in another state or Canadian province which extends the same exemption to Delaware residents.

Applicants must apply for the license online at: <https://de.gov/DigitalDNREC> or by calling the Division's Recreational Licensing Office at (302) 739-9918. Guide licenses are not available through State Licensing Agents.

TRAPPING LICENSES

Trappers must purchase their trapping license through the Division of Fish and Wildlife. Trappers who purchased a trapping license during the previous two trapping years can purchase again this year through their Digital DNREC account or at an authorized recreational license agent statewide, without waiting for approval. Trappers who did not purchase a trapping license during the previous two trapping years can create an account in Digital DNREC (or use their existing Digital DNREC account) and apply for a trapping license; these new trapping applications will require approval by the Division before the sale can be processed so trappers should plan ahead. Additionally, mail-in applications are available online at www.dnrec.alpha.delaware.gov/fish-wildlife/licenses/, by submitting the trapping application (see page 8) in this guide, or by calling 302-739-9918. Licensed trappers will be issued a permanent license number that can be renewed annually.

CONSERVATION ACCESS PASS

Effective July 1, 2017, a Conservation Access Pass is required for any registered motor vehicle used to access designated Delaware State Wildlife Areas for any allowable activity, including hunting, birdwatching, hiking and photography.

The Conservation Access Pass will help the Division of Fish and Wildlife maintain and improve these areas for hunting, wildlife viewing and wildlife photography. These funds will also help support habitat improvements on State Wildlife Areas.

A FREE annual Conservation Access Pass will be provided with the purchase of a hunting license. In order to receive a free Conservation Access Pass the hunter must present a vehicle registration card at the time of the hunting license purchase. The Conservation Access Pass is assigned to a single specified registered motor vehicle and may be transferred to another registered motor vehicle of the same ownership for a fee of $10.00. CAP transfers may be completed by logging into your Digital DNREC Account at: <https://de.gov/DigitalDNREC>. If you do not have a Digital DNREC Account or need more information please call the Recreational Licensing Office at (302) 739-9918 or email dfwrelic@delaware.gov.

If a free Conservation Access Pass is not selected during the purchase of the hunting license, one may be obtained by logging into your Digital DNREC Account at: <https://de.gov/DigitalDNREC> or by contacting the Division of Fish & Wildlife Recreational Licensing Office and providing the hunter's driver's license, hunting license and a vehicle registration card. Manual requests are processed in the order they are received and may take up to four weeks.

The Conservation Access Pass must be displayed in the assigned vehicle as described on the Pass.

The Pass is available annually July 1 - June 30 and is valid from the date of the hunting license purchase until June 30. The non-resident 3 day hunting license receives a free annual Pass.

License exempt hunters not purchasing a hunting license, who use a motor vehicle to access State Wildlife Areas, must purchase the Pass.

Hunters who are issued a free Pass may purchase additional Passes if they use multiple vehicles throughout the year to access State Wildlife Areas where the Pass is required. The Conservation Access Pass may be purchased online at <https://de.gov/DigitalDNREC>, at authorized license agents throughout the state, or at the Division's licensing desk in the Richardson & Robbins Building, 89 Kings Highway, Dover, DE. Remember to have your vehicle registration card available at the time of purchase. If you have questions about purchasing the Pass, please call the Division's Recreational Licensing Office at 302-739-9918.

Hunters using a motor vehicle to access a State Wildlife Area to hunt from a waterfowl blind or deer stand must also have the Pass displayed in the vehicle. See page 41 for more information.

State Wildlife Areas exempt from the Conservation Access Pass include the C&D Canal Conservation Area, including the Michael N. Castle Trail, designated fishing and boating access areas, educational facilities and shooting ranges. Additional areas may also be exempt. For a complete list of areas where the Pass is required or areas where the Pass is exempt, please visit our website <https://de.gov/fw> or call the Division's Wildlife Section at 302-739-9912.

A Conservation Access Pass shall not be required to access applicable lands leased from the Department, provided access is for the purpose for which such lands are leased. For more information on furbearer trapping leases see the State Wildlife Areas section on page 37.

WHAT DO I DO TO REPORT GAME LAW VIOLATIONS?

Contact the Division of Fish and Wildlife Operation Game Theft Hotline Toll-Free at 1-800-292-3030 anytime, 24 hours a day. You will be given an OGT Case Number. You do not need to give your name at this time. From this phone call, a Fish and Wildlife Natural Resources Police Officer will be dispatched or will return your call. Wildlife offenses need to be investigated immediately by an officer if there is to be a chance of making an arrest. The longer the delay in getting information to the agent, the smaller the chances of obtaining an arrest and conviction.

PUBLIC OPINION

It is the desire of the Division of Fish and Wildlife to continue to provide the highest level of service to the public using our wildlife areas, boating access areas, ponds, and marine resources. The management of the Division of Fish and Wildlife invites comments or suggestions on the operation of our wildlife areas, wildlife management programs, wildlife laws and regulations, or any problems encountered with Division employees. To voice a comment or offer a suggestion, you may contact the office of the Director of Fish and Wildlife at 302-739-9910 or write to the Director of Fish and Wildlife at 89 Kings Highway, Dover, Delaware 19901. Your comments or suggestions will be forwarded to the proper individual for consideration.

PRIVATE LANDOWNER ASSISTANCE

Delaware landowners hold over 80% of the land in Delaware, making them powerful decision-makers when it comes to land development and conservation. As land development increases, so does the pressure on wildlife habitat, species, and natural resources. Conservation efforts made by landowners are necessary to ensure healthy ecosystems and wildlife populations that future generations are entitled to enjoy. To support landowners in this effort, many state and federal agencies offer incentive programs with technical and financial assistance available to restore or enhance wildlife habitat. There are several programs available within DNREC that aim to engage landowners in conservation efforts. DNREC also partners with federal and private organizations to achieve the same goal of conserving natural resources for a more livable Delaware.

For more information regarding these programs and habitat improvements for non-game species and quail, contact Jason Davis at 302-735-3606.

The Division's established youth hunting programs support Delaware's Children in Nature Initiative, a statewide effort to improve environmental literacy in Delaware, create opportunities for children to participate in enriching outdoor experiences, combat childhood obesity, and promote healthy lifestyles. Delaware's multi-agency initiative, which partners several state and federal agencies with community organizations, is part of the No Child Left Inside program. To further promote the outdoors and getting youth involved with hunting and fishing, Ducks Unlimited, in collaboration with the Division will be hosting a Greenwing event in early Spring. HUNTER EDUCATION CLASSES

All persons born after January 1, 1967 are required to satisfactorily complete a Basic Hunter Education Course in order to obtain a Delaware Hunting License. Youth age 10 and older are eligible to take the Basic Hunter Education Course. Students under the age of 12 must be accompanied by an adult. Parents are reminded that younger students require a level of maturity and vocabulary sufficient for understanding adult subject matter and completing assignments. Students of smaller physical body size may find it very difficult or impossible to successfully complete the live firing exercise.

DIRECT SUPERVISION OF YOUTH

A youth (ages 15 and under) hunting in Delaware must be under direct supervision by a person 21 years or older who is the lawful holder of a hunting license or has a lawful right to hunt and has a License Exempt Number (LEN). Adults directly supervising youth under the age of 13 while turkey hunting must have completed an approved turkey hunting education course as well as meet the requirements above.

PURCHASING A HUNTING LICENSE

- Both resident and non-resident youth ages 13 through 15 must purchase a junior license to hunt in Delaware.
- Both resident and non-resident youth under the age of 13 must obtain a License Exempt Number (LEN) and must be under direct supervision by a person 21 years or older who is the lawful holder of a Delaware hunting license or has a lawful right to hunt in Delaware.

- Youth under the age of 16 do not need to purchase a State Waterfowl (Duck) Stamp.

FREQUENTLY ASKED YOUTH HUNTING QUESTIONS:

- Question: If a youth licensed hunter (age 13-15) turns 16 in the middle of a hunting season, does that person need to purchase an adult hunting license?

Answer: Yes. In this case, the youth should consider purchasing an adult hunting license instead of a youth hunting license in anticipation of turning 16 during the course of the hunting season.

- Question: Can a person under the age of 18 obtain a guide license?

Answer: No. Guides must be 18 years of age or older.

- Question: Does an adult hunter directly supervising a youth hunting waterfowl need to have a license and waterfowl stamps if he/she is not hunting and not in possession of a firearm? Also, does the adult need a license and waterfowl stamps if he/she is calling, but not in possession of a firearm?

Answer: Youth hunters must be under direct supervision by an adult 21 years of age or older who is the lawful holder of a hunting license or has a lawful right to hunt and has a License Exempt Number (LEN). Accompanying licensed and license exempt adult hunters must also have a federal waterfowl (duck) stamp but only licensed hunters are required to have a state duck stamp, as well. If these criteria are not met, the adult DOES NOT have the lawful right to hunt (to include calling) and may not accompany the youth hunter.

- Question: Does an adult directly supervising a youth hunting turkey need to have a license and turkey safety course card even if the adult is not hunting? Also, does the adult need a license and permit if he/she is calling but not in possession of a firearm?

Answer: Yes. The directly supervising adult must have a valid Delaware license and must have completed an approved turkey hunting education course. Also, the accompanying adult must be at least 21 years of age.

- Question: Does a hunter with a Junior Hunting License need to have a State Wildlife Area Waterfowl Blind and Deer Stand Permit?

Answer: Yes, unless the hunter is participating in a Division of Fish and Wildlife youth hunting day and then the requirement to have this permit is waived.

Only 2 antlered deer may be taken during any license year (July 1 – June 30) by all methods and seasons combined. There is no limit on antlerless deer provided a hunter has an antlerless deer tag in their possession before harvesting additional antlerless deer.

SUNDAY DEER HUNTING OPPORTUNITIES

Sunday deer hunting for established deer seasons is legal on private land at the discretion of the landowner and on designated publicly-owned lands. Deer seasons to include all statewide Sunday deer hunting dates are indicated within the table above. More information on statewide Sunday deer hunting dates and public lands open to Sunday deer hunting is available at the Sunday deer hunting website: <https://dnrec.alpha.delaware.gov/fish-wildlife/hunting/sunday/> or by calling the Wildlife Section office 302-739-9912.

It is unlawful to hunt any species on Sunday except deer on private land and designated publicly-owned lands, or if hunting on a commercial shooting preserve, or to chase (no harvest) red fox in season.

DEER HARVEST REPORT CARDS AND TAGS

DEER HARVEST REPORT CARDS

Hunters will no longer receive tags that must be attached to a deer before the animal is moved from the place of kill. Instead, all hunters legally allowed to hunt deer, will receive a Deer Harvest Report Card which will show all of the "tags" available to the hunter based on what they are eligible for and/or have purchased.

Upon successfully harvesting a deer, and before the animal is moved from the place of kill or field dressed, the hunter must complete the appropriate section of their Deer Harvest Report Card that represents the type of deer they harvested. This section must be punched and the date of harvest must be recorded. See example to the left. Once the deer is registered (no more than 24 hours following harvest) the deer registration number is to be recorded in permanent ink on the card. IMPORTANT: Hunters shall not remove the "tags" from their Deer Harvest Report Card for any reason, including being attached to a deer and the card should be kept as a complete document.

Both the Deer Harvest Report Card and Delaware Hunting License or LEN card must be in a hunter's possession while a hunter is hunting deer. If a hunter purchases additional tags, they will receive an updated Deer Harvest Report Card that will reflect their original tags as well as the new tag(s). Additionally, if a hunter had already harvested deer and recorded their harvest information on their card the harvest information will automatically be printed on the newly issued card. The most recently issued Deer Harvest Report Card is the version that the hunter must keep in their possession moving forward and all previously issued cards will no longer be valid.

If a harvested deer is no longer in a hunter's immediate possession, a Deer Carcass Tag must be affixed to the deer. See the Deer Carcass Tags section on this page for more information.

DEER CARCASS TAGS

Hunters that successfully harvest a deer are no longer required to attach a tag to their deer at the place of kill before the deer is moved, however they must complete the appropriate section on the Deer Harvest Report Card. See Deer Harvest Report Card section on this page for more information. The only time a physical tag is required to be affixed to a deer is if the deer is no longer in the hunter's immediate possession, at which time the successful hunter must affix a Deer Carcass Tag. These tags can be found in the middle of the paper version of this guide, within your Digital DNREC account (<https://de.gov/DigitalDNREC>), on the FW website, at <https://dnrec.alpha.delaware.gov/fish-wildlife/hunting/> or a hunter may make their own Deer Carcass Tags provided they include the hunters' name, license number, harvest date and deer registration number once the deer has been registered.

Examples of what constitutes a deer leaving a hunter's immediate possession include dropping it off at a deer processor or taxidermist, donating it at one of the Division's maintained Delaware Hunters Against Hunger coolers, or hanging the deer to cool and the hunter leaving the area to go somewhere else. A good rule of thumb, if a Natural Resource Police Officer encountered a hunter's deer and the hunter wasn't available to talk with the Officer, than the deer needs to have a Deer Carcass Tag affixed to the animal. For questions, please call 302-735-3600.

RESIDENT LICENSED HUNTERS

Delaware hunting licenses come with a Deer Harvest Report Card that contains 4 antlerless deer tags. Quality Buck Tags are available for

$20 and come with a free Hunter's Choice Tag and will be included on a hunter's Deer Harvest Report Card if purchased. The Hunter's Choice Tag can be used on an antlerless or antlered deer. The Quality Buck Tag can only be used on an antlered deer with a minimum outside spread of 15". Hunters will only be allowed to harvest a maximum of 2 antlered bucks (all seasons combined) by using the Hunter's Choice Tag and the Quality Buck Tag. All other deer taken must be antlerless. Additional antlerless deer tags are available for $20 each.

This deer tag system has been implemented to encourage hunters to harvest antlerless deer and to promote quality bucks.

NON-RESIDENT DEER TAGS

Non-resident hunting licenses will come with a Deer Harvest Report Card that contains 4 antlerless deer tags. The cost of an Antlered Deer Tag and a Quality Buck Tag will be $50 each for non-resident hunters. Hunters may purchase only one of each tag. If purchased, these "tags" will be added to the hunter's Deer Harvest Report Card. An antlered deer tag may only be used on a deer with one or more antlers measuring 3 inches or more.

LICENSED EXEMPT HUNTERS

Persons not required to purchase a hunting license in Delaware must obtain a License Exempt Number (LEN) and associated Deer Harvest

Report Card. License exempt hunters may no longer make their own deer tags. For more information about LENs, please refer to pages 7 and 8.

License exempt hunters will receive a Deer Harvest Report Card that contains 4 antlerless deer "tags" and 1 Hunter's Choice deer "tag" at no charge. License exempt hunters may purchase a Quality Buck Tag using their annual mandatory License Exempt Number (LEN). The cost of a Quality Buck Tag is $20 for resident or $50 for non-resident license exempt hunters. If purchased, this tag will automatically be added to their Deer Harvest Report Card.

License exempt hunters are only allowed two antlered bucks during any license year by all methods and seasons combined. One free Hunter's Choice Tag and one purchased Quality Buck Tag.

QUALITY BUCK TAGS

Quality Buck Tags may only be used on an antlered deer with an outside antler spread of at least 15 inches. The distance between the tips of a deer's ears when both ears are held straight out from the head in the "alert" position is approximately 15 inches so a deer in which this tag would be applicable would generally need to have antlers that are at least as wide as the space between his ear tips.

AUTOMATED DEER CHECKING

All successful deer hunters must register their deer within 24 hours of harvest. Prior to registering a deer, hunters may not cut the meat or remove any part of the deer except the internal organs (known as the viscera). Hunters can register their deer by visiting <https://de.gov/DigitalDNREC> or by calling the toll free number 1-855-DEL-HUNT (1-855-335-4868). Hunters will answer a series of questions by using the computer or telephone. REMINDER: Hunters that harvest an antlered deer will be asked to report the antler spread and number of points.

A ruler can be found on the bottom edge of pages 24 and 25. Spread will be reported as "15 inches or greater" or "less than 15 inches" as measured across the outside of the mainbeams (antler spread) at their widest point; this measurement's path must be perpendicular to the center line of the skull and parallel to the top of the skull plate. See picture to the right for example where to measure. When reporting the number of points, hunters shall report the number of points that are equal to or greater than one inch in length. If a point is broken off and less than one inch or a point is shorter than one inch than it should NOT be counted. At the end of the questions, hunters will be given a deer harvest registration number. This number will serve as proof the animal was checked and should be kept for your records and written in ink in the appropriate section on a hunter's Deer Harvest Report Card. If you have problems with this system call 302-735-3600. Hunters that take their deer to a butcher shop or taxidermist will need to supply their registration number to the shop owner as proof the deer was registered.

METHOD OF TAKE

HANDGUN HUNTING

Handguns legal for deer hunting are limited to revolvers and single shot pistols with a barrel length of at least 5.75 inches and no longer than 12.5 inches that use straight-wall handgun ammunition in .357 to .38 caliber with a cartridge case length of no less than 1.25 inches and a maximum case length of 1.82 inches, or in .41 caliber to a maximum of .50 caliber and a maximum case length of 1.82 inches. When hunting with a handgun, youth under the age of 18 must be under direct supervision by a person 21 years of age or older.

The handgun must be carried openly on a sling or in a holster and not concealed. Handgun hunting for deer is only permissible on privately owned lands situated south of the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal and on many state-owned lands. Consult area maps for more details.

In addition to the January Handgun Deer Season, it is legal to hunt deer with a handgun during the November and January General Firearm Deer Seasons (aka Shotgun Seasons). Hunting deer with a handgun is not legal on Sunday, January 7, 2024, based on state law.

STRAIGHT-WALLED PISTOL-CALIBER RIFLE

Only straight-wall cartridges usable in handguns may be used that are of .357 to 38 caliber with a case length no less than 1.25 inches and a maximum case length of 1.82 inches, or .41 caliber to maximum of .50 caliber and a maximum case length of 1.82 inches. Case length excludes the bullet portion of the cartridge. These rifles cannot be loaded with more than three cartridges in the chamber and magazine combined when hunting deer. Open, metallic/mechanical, optical and telescopic sights may be used. These rifles cannot be used for deer hunting north of the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal. Throughout the rest of the state, these rifles may only be used for deer hunting in during the November and January General Firearm Deer Seasons (aka Shotgun Seasons) or during the January Handgun Deer Season. These rifles may not be used during the Special Antlerless Deer Seasons. Furthermore, these rifles are not a legal method of take for any other species (except groundhogs), including red fox and coyotes.

SHARPS RIFLE

Hunters may use a single shot antique or authentic reproduction black powder Sharps rifle of .45 to .60 caliber using paper patched bullets for hunting deer during any shotgun deer season.

CROSSBOWS

Crossbows used must have a minimum pull weight of 125 pounds, be manufactured after 1980, and have a mechanical safety, and may be equipped with a scope. Crossbows shall not be transported in or on a vehicle while in the cocked position.

VERTICAL BOWS

No person shall use a compound, recurve, or longbow with a pull weight less than 35 pounds.

BAITING

It is lawful to distribute and hunt over bait while hunting deer on privately owned lands only.

Advice to Hunters and Rules Concerning Chronic Wasting Disease

What is CWD?

Chronic Wasting Disease (CWD) is a naturally occurring disease of the brain and nervous system in deer, elk, and moose. CWD attacks the brain of these animals producing small lesions that eventually result in death. The body condition of animals that contract CWD tends to deteriorate before death. Currently there is no treatment for deer that contract CWD and is invariably fatal to the animal. No cases of human infection have been associated with CWD. Since 2002, the Division has collected nearly 10,000 CWD samples from deer harvested in Delaware and none have been positive for the disease.

Laws and Best Management Practices Pertaining to CWD

It is far easier and less expensive to implement precautions that minimize the risk of CWD infecting the Delaware deer population than it is to manage the disease after it has been detected. There are several things that individual hunters can do to minimize the chance of CWD spreading to our state.

It is unlawful to import or possess any carcass or parts of a carcass of any member of the family Cervidae (deer, elk or moose) originating from an entire state or Canadian province or portion thereof, as described by the Delaware Division of Fish and Wildlife in which CWD has been found in free-ranging or captive deer. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the following parts may be imported into the state:

- Boned-out meat that is cut and wrapped;
- Quarters or other portions of meat with no part of the spinal column or skull attached;
- Hides or capes with no skull attached;
- Clean (no meat or tissue attached) skull plates with antlers attached;
- Antlers (with no meat or tissue attached);
- Upper canine teeth (buglers, whistlers, or ivories); and
- Finished taxidermy products.

Regionally, the states of Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and West Virginia have confirmed the presence of CWD. From these states, hunters are restricted from bringing entire deer carcasses and may only bring the above mentioned parts from the counties in which CWD has been found. If hunters are hunting in portions of these states outside of those areas, they are not restricted from bringing their harvest back to Delaware.

- Maryland — Allegany, Carroll, Frederick, and Washington Counties
- Pennsylvania — Adams, Armstrong, Bedford, Berks, Blair, Cambria, Centre, Clarion, Clearfield, Columbia, Cumberland, Dauphin, Elk, Franklin, Fulton, Huntingdon, Indiana, Jefferson, Juniata, Lancaster, Lebanon, Lycoming, Mifflin, Montour, Northumberland, Perry, Snyder, Somerset, Sullivan, Union, Warren, and Westmoreland Counties
- Virginia — Clarke, Culpeper, Fairfax, Fauquier, Frederick, Floyd, Loudoun, Madison, Montgomery, Orange, Page, Pulaski, Rappahannock, Shenandoah, and Warren Counties
- West Virginia — Berkeley, Grant, Hampshire, Hardy, Jefferson, Mineral, and Morgan Counties

CWD has been detected in 29 states and 3 Canadian provinces. For a complete list of restricted areas within other states please visit <http://cwd-info.org/> or contact the Division at 302-735-3600.

Any person who imports into Delaware any deer carcass or parts of a deer carcass (e.g. antlers, meat, hide, etc.) that was tested for CWD by another state and is notified that the animal has tested positive for CWD must report the test results to the Division within 72 hours of receiving the notification by calling the Division at 302-735-3600.

For a complete list of restricted areas within other states please visit the websites above or contact the Division at 302-735-3600.

CWD may be present in some locations but it hasn't been detected by natural resource agencies. Therefore, all hunters should properly dispose of all portions of their carcass not consumed or used for taxidermy purposes. The parts that remain after processing a deer for consumption are considered household waste and hunters should dispose of the skeleton, hide, and scraps in a sealed trash bag and place it with the rest of their household waste for transport to a landfill. Do not dump your butchering scraps on the ground as wild deer in Delaware could come in contact with these parts and if the animal that was processed had CWD, the wild deer could become infected after coming into contact with the scraps you put out on the ground.

The biological material responsible for infecting deer with CWD can be spread through urine, among other materials. Many hunters use natural deer urine as an attractant while deer hunting. If used improperly, hunters could unknowingly be infecting the areas they hunt with CWD. Short of not using deer urine while hunting, hunters should take the following precautions to minimize the chance that deer will come in contact with these products.

- Use attractants that do not contain natural deer urine as an ingredient or use synthetically produced products as a replacement.
- Do not pour or dispense natural deer urine on the ground or in a place where a deer could come in contact with the product. A better approach when using natural deer urine as an attractant, would involve saturating a scent wick, cotton ball, or other material with the urine and then hanging the item on a branch high enough that it is out of reach of a passing deer. At the end of each hunt, remove your scent station from the field so that deer are unable to come in contact with the lure.

For More Information on CWD

Additional information on CWD can be found at the CWD Alliance website www.cwd-info.org and on the Delaware Fish and Wildlife website <https://de.gov/fw>.

THANK YOU TO OUR PARTICIPATING DEER PROCESSORS

The Division would like to sincerely thank the following deer processors for allowing us to collect CWD samples at their facilities last year. Their annual participation and involvement with our monitoring program is extremely important to the program's success.

Participating processors include:

Bobby's Deer Butcher Shop in Middletown, Dutch Neck Deer Processing in Middletown, Miller's Butcher Shop in Camden-Wyoming, Johnson's Custom Cutting in Milton, and Hocker's Super Center in Millville.

DEER HUNTING SECTION

ear tags, and some received radio transmitter collars. Both of which allowed us to collect data on deer ecology and hunter harvests. Hunters should treat deer with collars and ear tags as any other deer. If a marked deer is legal for harvest, then it may be harvested. If a hunter harvests a marked deer, they are asked to call the phone number listed on the metal ear tag (302-831-4621), so information concerning the harvested deer can be collected. Someone will contact them for further information as soon as possible. Since many of these deer are reported during the hectic firearms season, please feel free to contact us again if you have not been contacted within a few days of previously calling.

HUNTER ORANGE

During a time when it is lawful to take a deer with a firearm, any person hunting any wildlife except migratory game birds in this state shall display hunter orange on that person's head, chest, and back totaling no less than 400 square inches combined. Furthermore, hunters pursuing small game (squirrels, rabbits, groundhogs, quail, or pheasants) on a State Wildlife Area must abide by the same hunter orange requirements at all times. If a hunter utilizes a ground blind to hunt deer during a time when it is lawful to take deer with a firearm and the hunter is completely concealed within a blind, then 400 square inches of hunter orange material shall be placed within 10 feet outside of the blind and at least 3 feet off of the ground.

STATE DEER RECORDS

The Division maintains records of the top hunter taken deer based on net Boone and Crockett scores on its website at <https://dnrec.alpha.delaware.gov/fish-wildlife/hunting/>. Any whitetails meeting Pope and Young minimums for bow kills (125 typical, 155 non-typical), Longhunter Society minimums for muzzleloader kills (130 typical, 160 non-typical), handgun (130 typical, 160 non-typical) and shotgun and straight-walled pistol-caliber rifles harvests of 140 typical and better and 160 non-typical and better are eligible for entry. The Division is interested in Delaware whitetails taken in any year; however, antlers cannot be scored until at least 60 days have passed since the deer was harvested. To have your deer scored by the Division, please call 302-735-3600 to schedule an appointment or if a hunter has their deer scored by an official measurer of one of the previously mentioned organizations, and it surpasses our minimum score requirements, a copy of the score sheet can be submitted to the Division and your entry will be added to Delaware's records book. For more information, please call 302-735-3600.

DELAWARE HUNTERS AGAINST HUNGER PROGRAM

In addition to the contracted private deer processors, the Division of Fish and Wildlife maintains walk-in coolers where hunters can drop off deer for donation to the Delaware Hunters Against Hunger Program (DHAH), formerly known as the Sportsmen Against Hunger Program (SAH). Only deer legally harvested in Delaware are eligible to be donated through this program. Deer harvested out of state will not be accepted. These locations include in Sussex County: the Assawoman Wildlife Area near Bethany Beach, the Mosquito Control Office in Milford, the headquarters office at Redden State Forest near Georgetown, the Gumboro Community Center in Millsboro and Trap Pond State Park near Laurel; In Kent County: the Little Creek Wildlife Area main tract, east of Dover and the Main office on the Norman G. Wilder Wildlife Area near Viola; and in New Castle County: the Augustine Wildlife Area, in Port Penn. For more information about walk-in cooler locations and participating deer processors, visit the DHAH website <https://de.gov/DHAH>. If you own and operate a private deer processing facility and would like more information about potentially becoming involved with the DHAH program, please contact the Division at 302-739-9912.

YOUTH AND NON-AMBULATORY DEER HUNT, NOVEMBER 4 AND 5, 2023

Any youth from 10 years through 15 years and individuals that are non-ambulatory, and use a wheelchair for mobility, may hunt. Youth hunters must be under direct supervision by a person 21 years of age or older. Hunters 13-15 years of age must have completed a Hunter Education Course and possess a certification card and must also purchase a Delaware junior hunting license.

The normal bag limits and regulations apply. Adult companions must be licensed to hunt in Delaware (or exempt) but may not possess a firearm during the hunt.

Young hunters must be of sufficient size and physical strength to safely handle a firearm. All deer taken must be registered.

Open statewide on private and public lands. On State Wildlife Areas that require a stand allocation drawing, the lottery drawing will be held 1.5 hours before legal shooting time. Hunters should arrive at least 1.5 hours before legal shooting time to sign up. The youth hunt at Bombay Hook National Wildlife Refuge will be conducted on a first-come, first-serve basis at Steamboat Landing and Fischer Tract. Contact the refuge for information on how to sign up.

For more information on youth hunting, see the Youth Hunting section on page 16.

SELLING DEER PARTS OR DEER MEAT

No person shall purchase, sell or expose for sale, or transport, ship or possess with the intent to sell, any deer or any part of such deer, except for the hides of lawfully killed deer, at any time.

Therefore, taxidermists and deer butchers may only charge for a service and may only charge those to whom they are providing the service. It is illegal to sell deer taxidermy items and deer meat in Delaware. This includes the "recouping" of processing fees for items or meat not picked up by the legal owner.

SIKA DEER

WHAT TO DO IF YOU HARVEST ONE

Follow the same steps as you would if you harvested a white-tailed deer and register the deer as described on pages 18 and 19 of this guide.

In addition to registering the sika deer via the phone/internet registration system please call the Division of Fish and Wildlife at 302-735-3600 so that Division biologists can collect additional harvest information.

WHERE ARE THEY FOUND?

Sika deer inhabit marshes, swamps, and associated woodlands and agricultural fields. Sika Deer are a small elk introduced from Asia (China, Japan, Korea, Taiwan) by private citizens into Maryland in 1916. Recently, their range has expanded and some individuals have been found in Delaware. As a result, the Division will allow Delaware hunters to harvest sika deer while hunting for white-tailed deer. The sika deer population in Delaware is still very small and the Division would like to keep it that way. Sika deer are not native to the State, so following the Division's goal of not promoting nonnative species they may be harvested.

WHAT DO THEY LOOK LIKE?

They are 2.5 feet high at the shoulder, weigh 50-100 pounds and the sika deer coat is dark brown to black. Some even have faint white parallel spots on their back. They also have a white rump. Males (stags) are larger than females (hinds) and have antlers. Males also have a dark shaggy mane running down their neck.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Q: Will sika deer compete with white-tailed deer?

A: Research conducted in Maryland indicates that white-tailed deer and sika deer can coexist and it does not appear that they don't usually directly compete with each other when sika deer populations are at low to moderate densities. However, more research is needed to confirm this relationship.

Q: Will sika deer breed with white-tailed deer?

A: No, sika deer will not breed with a white-tailed deer as they are a separate species. Additionally, the breeding season for sika deer occurs in mid to late October, while the breeding season for white-tailed deer occurs in mid-November.

Q: Are sika deer related to white-tailed deer?

A: Sort of, both sika deer and white-tailed deer are members of the deer family (Cervidae), but are of a different genus Cervus (sika deer) and Odocoileus (white-tailed deer). Sika deer are actually more closely related to Rocky Mountain elk than they are to white-tailed deer.

Deer hunting in the First State has come a long way since 1954 when that first year harvest topped out at 505 animals. It's been said that many thought too many deer were taken that year and that the population could not sustain that sort of pressure. The graph shows that this was certainly not the case. Annual Delaware deer harvests now have topped 16,000 animals three of the last four seasons. For additional harvest information visit de.gov/deer

2022-23 Deer Season Highlights

- 16,848 deer taken – 3rd highest all-time
- Most does harvested in a single season: 9,789
- The November General Firearm Season yielded 6,995 deer or 41.5% of the total harvest
- The preferred method of take for hunters was by shotgun – accounting for 35% of the deer harvest

DELAWARE SQUIRRELS

Sussex County hosts two species of diurnal tree squirrel: Gray and Delmarva Fox

Gray squirrels are quite common while Delmarva fox squirrels are so rare they are on the state Endangered Species list.

If you hold a Delaware hunting license, you are permitted to hunt gray squirrels but NOT fox squirrels. Before you shoot, take a good look at the squirrel in your crosshairs! In addition to looking different, Delmarva fox squirrels also behave differently; are more likely to walk on the ground rather than jump from tree to tree as with gray squirrels.

Efforts to restore DFS to Delaware have included adding squirrels to Assawoman Wildlife Area, Redden State Forest, and Trap Pond State Park. The squirrels have expanded out to surrounding woodlands so please take special care in those areas. In the case of Trap Pond, you are especially likely to see them in the Raccoon Pond Tract but they have also spread out as far as seven miles from the park.

If you have seen a Delmarva fox squirrel, please call the Species Conservation and Research office 302-735-3600 and, if you have a camera, take a picture. Hunters often see the squirrels while hunting and we would love to hear about it if you do. Thanks!

Delmarva Fox Squirrel

What We're Learning About Turkeys in Delaware

By Drs. Angela Holland and Jacob Bowman

The University of Delaware and the Delaware Division of Fish and Wildlife recently collaborated on a research project monitoring survival and movement of male wild turkeys throughout the state of Delaware. We trapped turkeys for three years and used GPS backpack transmitters to follow turkey movement throughout the year but collected extra data during the spring and the hunting season. While our primary project goal was to understand what factors affected male turkey survival, we were also able to look at how much birds move and changes in body measurements.

We were able to monitor turkey movement throughout the year but focused particularly on the spring season (April 1 - June 30) since this timeframe overlaps with both the breeding season and the hunting season. We used hourly locations to estimate turkey home ranges and determine how much they were moving. We then looked at overlap of home ranges with the amount of forest and public land. Across all years and for both juveniles and adults home ranges were on average 2 mi² with juveniles having more variable (sometimes much larger and sometimes much smaller) home ranges. Movement rates were also fairly consistent between years and ages. Male turkeys typically moved about 200 yards each hour during non-roost hours. More than half of an individual's home range was comprised of forested land for juveniles and adults during all three years of the study. As we expected, turkeys use a mixture of landcover types, relying slightly more, at least spatially, on forested areas. Not quite 20% of harvest records occurred on public land in Delaware in recent years and there was a similar rate of harvest on public land in our turkey sample. Interestingly, turkey home ranges overlapped with public land at about the same rate with, on average across ages and years, 18% of home ranges consisting of public land. This value however varied greatly by individual. Some individuals in both age classes in every year maintained a home range exclusively on private property, while others had over 90% of their home range on public land. Hunters utilizing private or public land have opportunities to harvest turkeys and perhaps even the same bird as it moves across the landscape.

Once we had an understanding of how turkeys were moving, we could determine if their land cover preferences or movement rates affected their survival. In short, they do! Turkeys moving more each hour on average were more likely to die during the spring season than turkeys that did not move as much. However, the amount of forest or public land within the turkey's home range did not affect survival. We were able to confirm that harvest was the primary source of mortality for the male turkey population in Delaware, but other sources of mortality occurred. Mortality due to natural events such as predation (foxes, raptors, owls) or disease was the next leading cause of mortality after harvest and juveniles were more susceptible to natural mortality events. Other, but very rare, sources of mortality included vehicle collisions and illegal harvest (harvest outside of the hunting season). Survival rates for adult and juvenile turkeys in Delaware are similar to populations throughout the Mid-Atlantic region.

One advantage of capturing individuals as juveniles was that we had known age turkeys in our study group. With known age individuals we were able to compare changes in body measurements such as weight, beard length, and spur length at different ages based on data collected at harvest and comparing it to data collected during capture. Turkey weight increased from the juvenile year to the adult stage but remained fairly consistent as birds aged, so older birds did not weigh more. But, as expected, beard length and spur length both increased with age. Due to the length of the study, we did not have a large sample size for known age 3- and 4-year-old birds, but as bands are returned this data set will grow. We also noticed that weights of adult birds at time of harvest generally decreased over the harvest season. Most likely condition of adult males decreases over the course of the breeding season which overlaps with the hunting season, resulting in harvest of lower weight birds later in the season. So, if you have the option to hunt earlier in the season take it for the possibility of a slightly better condition bird.

Research on survival of game species is one way we can better understand how harvest and hunting pressure affects dynamics of managed populations. But to get the most accurate representation of what is happening in a wild population, our tagged and monitored individuals should not get any special treatment or attention. In other words, purposely avoiding or harvesting a turkey in the study can sway the results. For example, in the first year of this study juvenile survival was lower than adult survival and the primary cause of juvenile mortality was harvest. This was an unexpected and highly unusual result for male turkeys in a population that is primarily limited by harvest since hunters typically harvest adult birds (about 80% of harvest records). Upon closer inspection we noticed that all of the juvenile mortality events due to harvest that year occurred within closely associated flocks in the same general area. It's possible that this was a coincidence, alternatively, birds in this flock were harvested regardless of age because they were known to be banded. We do our best to make sure our study individuals are representative of the population and our research techniques do not affect their behavior or chances of survival, but we need the cooperation of the hunters.

We are incredibly appreciative of the public support for this project over the years. From reporting harvest of tagged individuals to allowing access to private property, this project would not have been possible without the cooperation of hunters and landowners. Learning more about our state's game species is a more successful endeavor when we all work together!

TURKEY SEASON

Delaware's spring wild turkey hunting season will run from April 13, 2024 - May 11, 2024. A special one-day hunt for youth and non-ambulatory hunters will occur on April 6, 2024. No Sunday hunting. Public land permits can only be used on the property and season segment for which they are issued. Applications must be received by January 5, 2024 to be processed for the lottery drawing.

Segment dates (A-D) for Public Land Permits are:

- (A) April 13 - April 19
- (B) April 20 - April 26
- (C) April 27 - May 3
- (D) May 4 - May 11

TURKEY HUNTING HOURS

1/2 hour before sunrise until 1:00 p.m. All turkeys must be checked at an authorized turkey check station by 2:30 p.m. on the day the bird is killed.

TURKEY CHECK STATIONS

Locations and hours will be posted on the Division's website <https://de.gov/fw>, just prior to the season. Information can also be obtained by calling 735-3600 or 739-9912. See page 29 for the list of tentative Turkey Check Stations.

LEGAL BIRDS AND BAG LIMIT

Bearded birds only. Bag limit is one turkey per year.

CALLS

All non-electronic calls are legal. For safety reasons, and to avoid potentially "calling" other hunters closer to your location, hunters should use caution if imitating a male gobbling call.

LEGAL FIREARMS, BOWS, AND SHOT SIZES

1. Shotguns, including smoothbore muzzle-loading shotguns – 20, 16, 12, 10 gauge – legal shot sizes: #4, #5, #6. Loads containing 7 or 7 ½ shot may be used if it is part of a duplex or triplex load containing 4, 5, or 6 shot.
2. Longbow/compound/crossbow – Minimum broadhead width of 7/8 inches.
3. Crossbows may be used for turkey hunting. Crossbows must meet the same standards as for deer hunting.

CLOTHING

For safety reasons, it will be illegal to wear any visible garment having the colors red, white or blue.

BLINDS/DECOYS

Temporary blinds of vegetation or camouflage material are legal. Artificial turkey decoys are legal. Decoys may have no parts from a formerly live turkey.

RESTRICTIONS

Dogs or bait may not be used. Hunters may not drive turkeys or shoot them while they are at roost.

MANDATORY TURKEY SAFETY COURSE

Before hunting turkeys in Delaware for the first time, all hunters age 13 and older must complete a mandatory turkey education course. For more information, please see inset located in bottom right corner of this page and page 48 of this guide. Upon successful completion of this course, hunters will need to reprint their hunting license (if they already have a license) as completion of the course will be indicated on the license. Hunters that have already successfully completed the course will no longer need to carry a card as proof of completion as long as their hunting license indicates they have completed the course. In addition, public land hunters must have an annual permit from the Division if hunting on a State Wildlife Area or from the Delaware Department of Agriculture if hunting on a State Forest.

Youth under the age of 13 are not required to complete a mandatory turkey education course but they must have a License Exempt Number and be under direct supervision by a person 21 years or older while hunting. See page 16 for information related to the requirements for an accompanying adult.

PUBLIC LAND TURKEY PERMITS

A permit is needed to hunt turkey on public lands. See page 44 for the permit application form to hunt on State Wildlife Areas. See page 42 for information on how to hunt on State Forest Lands. Hunters will no longer be eligible to receive a permit to hunt on both State Forests and State Wildlife Areas in the same season. The State Forest Lottery will be held after the State Wildlife Area Lottery. Hunters that successfully receive a State Wildlife Area permit, and applied for a State Forest permit, will have their State Forest application removed before the lottery takes place and they will not be eligible for the State Forest lottery. This change is being made to maximize the number of individual hunters that have an opportunity to hunt on publicly-owned land each season.

YOUTH AND NON-AMBULATORY TURKEY HUNT, APRIL 6, 2024

Open statewide. Any youth from 10 years through 15 years and individuals that are non-ambulatory, and use a wheelchair for mobility, may hunt. Young hunters must be under

FIRST TIME TURKEY HUNTERS

All first time Delaware turkey hunters must successfully complete a Division approved Turkey Hunting Safety Course. This includes both public and private hunters. Public land hunters must have completed the Turkey Hunting Safety Course before they can apply for a public land turkey permit.

To register for a classroom Turkey Hunting Safety Course, call the Hunter Education Office at 302-735-3600 x 1.

Delaware also accepts an online turkey course:

todayshunter.com/turkey101/
(Certification Fee $29.99)

Note: Upon completion of the online course, students must contact the Hunter Education office at huntereducation@delaware.gov or 302-735-3600 x 1) to update their account to reflect course completion. Students will be required to submit a copy of their course completion certificate. Please include a phone number where the Hunter Education Office may call, in case there are any questions.

direct supervision by an adult 21 years of age or older. Hunters 13-15 years old must have a valid Delaware junior hunting license and must have taken a Basic Hunter Safety course as well as a Delaware approved turkey hunter safety course.

Adult companions must be licensed to hunt in Delaware (or exempt) and must have taken a Delaware approved turkey hunter safety class. Adult companions may not possess a firearm during the hunt. Young hunters must be of sufficient size and physical strength to safely handle a firearm.

The normal bag limits and regulations apply and all turkeys taken must be registered.

All state wildlife areas and state forests open for turkey hunting will be open for the Youth and Non-Ambulatory Turkey Hunt. Hunters may go to any areas they choose. If overcrowding occurs, the Division may add this hunt to its pre-season lottery system in future seasons.

For more information on youth hunting, see the Youth Hunting section on page 16.

WILD TURKEY RESEARCH

HARVESTING LEG BANDED TURKEYS

The University of Delaware in collaboration with the Delaware Division of Fish and Wildlife, has been capturing and banding turkeys in Delaware. All turkeys will receive numbered leg bands, and some will receive radio transmitters, both of which allow us to collect data on turkey ecology and hunter harvests. Hunters should treat turkeys with transmitters and leg bands as they would an unmarked turkey. So that we can accurately evaluate turkey survival, hunters should not target marked birds or refrain from harvesting marked birds if they can tell they are banded prior to harvest as this will influence our research results. If a marked turkey is legal for harvest, then it may be harvested. If a hunter harvests a marked turkey, they are asked to call the phone number listed on the metal leg band, 302-831-4621, or the Division at 302-735-3600 so that information concerning the harvested turkey can be collected. Furthermore, hunters must still register their turkey in the same manner described within this Guide.

Thank You to Our Participating Turkey Check Stations

The Division would like to sincerely thank everyone that was a participating turkey check station and collecting harvest information. Their annual participation and involvement with our monitoring program is extremely important to the program's success.

NWTF Turkey Records Program Hunters who want to have their bird scored and entered into the National Wild Turkey Federation (NWTF) records are reminded to have their bird's live weight recorded on a certified scale. If the check station does not have a certified scale, hunters will have to go to another shop to have the turkey re-weighed. For more information about the NWTF Turkey Records program, please visit: www.nwtf.org/hunt/records

WILD TURKEY SIGHTING SURVEY

During the months of July and August, the Division asks hunters and the general public to submit their observations of turkeys as part of an annual survey of the population. Survey forms may be found in June on the Division's website at <https://dnrec.alpha.delaware.gov/fish-wildlife/hunting/wild-turkeys/surveys/> or it may be obtained by calling 302-735-3600.

- Synopsis of Federal Regulations: <http://de.gov/migbirdhntref>

NOTE: When State law is different from the Federal law the hunter must comply with the most restrictive law.

NOTE: The shooting hours for all mute swans and migratory game birds, including waterfowl except during the Snow Goose Conservation Order, are 1/2 hour before sunrise until sunset.

NOTE: No person shall have more than three times the daily bag limit of migratory birds at any one time when it is lawful to possess such wildlife. Any migratory bird that has been processed and stored for consumption at a person's permanent residence shall not count against the hunter's possession limit.

NOTE: You cannot put or leave waterfowl at any place or in the custody of another person unless you tag the birds with your signature, address, number of birds identified by species, and the date you killed them.

MIGRATORY BIRD HUNTING SECTION

HARVEST INFORMATION PROGRAM – H.I.P.

If you are a Delaware migratory bird hunter (ducks, geese, swans, doves, woodcock, rails, snipe, and coots), you MUST obtain a new H.I.P. number each year which are valid from July 1st through June 30th of the following year. Note: If the only migratory birds that you intend to hunt are crows, you do not need to obtain a H.I.P. number. H.I.P. is the "Harvest Information Program" which is required by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS). Under the Harvest Information Program, migratory bird hunters need a special permit to hunt. A H.I.P. number is specific to each state so a hunter will need a different number for each state they hunt migratory birds in. To get the permit, hunters have to provide their name and address, and answer a few questions about their previous year's hunting effort and success. This information is collected by the state, remains totally confidential, and goes immediately to the USFWS which randomly selects hunters to receive a survey form. If you are going to hunt migratory birds in Delaware, you MUST have a H.I.P. number. To obtain your number please visit <https://de.gov/DigitalDN-REC> or call toll free 1-855-335-4868.

THIS PERMIT IS FREE. Hunters shall record their 6-digit H.I.P. number on their hunting license. If the H.I.P. number is obtained at the same time the license is acquired, or if a hunter reprints their license after receiving their number, it will automatically be printed on the license.

NON-RESIDENT 3-DAY HUNTING LICENSE

- The non-resident 3-day hunting license may be used to hunt waterfowl provided the hunter has purchased the Federal Duck Stamp and state waterfowl (duck) stamp and has a H.I.P. number.
- When purchasing your waterfowl (duck) stamp on the electronic systems, the stamp image is printed on your license if you purchase your hunting license at the same time. If you purchase the stamp separately you will receive the stamp image. The Division no longer mails original waterfowl (duck) stamps automatically at the end of the season (June 30th of each year). If you would like an original stamp sent to you please answer "yes" to the question at the time of purchase or call 302-739-9918 and provide your name, address and order ID number after you purchase the electronic stamp.

YOUTH WATERFOWL HUNTING DAYS

YOUTH WATERFOWL HUNTS, OCTOBER 21, 2023 AND FEBRUARY 3, 2024

Open statewide on private and public lands, including state wildlife areas and the federal refuges. The lottery drawing for state blinds is 1.5 hours before legal shooting time except for the Little Creek WA where the drawing is 2 hours before legal shooting time. Hunters should arrive prior to 2 hours before legal shooting time to sign up for the lottery.

Children 10 through 15 years old may hunt, but must be under direct supervision by a licensed adult 21 years of age or older. No state or federal stamps are required. Thirteen, fourteen and fifteen year old hunters must purchase a Delaware junior hunting license. Regular season limits and waterfowl hunting regulations apply.

Adult companions must be licensed to hunt in Delaware (or exempt) but may not possess a firearm during the hunt. For more information on youth hunting, see the Youth Hunting section on page 16.

MANY WATERFOWL REGULATIONS WERE ADOPTED THROUGH FEDERAL REGULATIONS.

NON-TOXIC SHOT

Non-toxic shot, as approved by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, is required for all waterfowl hunting within the State of Delaware. There are no exceptions. For a list of currently approved non-toxic shot types visit <http://de.gov/migbirdhuntref>.

HUNTING FROM BOATS

During the waterfowl season, it shall be unlawful for any person to hunt from a boat of any kind that is within 1,500 feet of an established blind, unless they have permission from the blind owner, except that:

- Any person may retrieve crippled waterfowl by the use of a boat in accordance with federal Regulations
- Any person may use a boat for transportation to and from an established blind lawfully used by such person
- Any person may hunt from a boat that is firmly secured and enclosed in an established blind.

During the waterfowl season, it shall be unlawful for any person to hunt from a boat, or a floating or fixed blind in the Little River in areas bounded on both sides by land administered by the Division.

During the waterfowl season, it shall be unlawful for any person to hunt within 900 feet of the shoreline (high tide line) of the Delaware River and Bay, between the Appoquinimink River and the Smyrna River, without written permission of the closest adjoining landowner(s). Furthermore, it shall be unlawful for any person to hunt within 1,500 feet of the shoreline (high tide line) of the Delaware River and Bay, between the Smyrna River and the Murderkill River, without written permission of the closest adjoining landowner(s).

It shall be unlawful for tender boats servicing gunning (layout) rigs to be further than 1,500 feet from the rig or to conduct any activity, except to pick up downed birds or service the rig.

SNOW GEESE

Hunters are reminded that Delaware and Maryland have a reciprocal agreement for hunting snow geese. Delaware hunters can hunt snow geese in Maryland with their Delaware hunting license provided they have a Maryland Migratory Game Bird Stamp, a Federal Duck Stamp, a Maryland H.I.P. number and are in compliance with Maryland Hunter Safety laws. Holders of a Delaware resident guide license should refer to the "Delaware Guide/Hunt License" section on page 9 for information related to reciprocity in other states. Maryland resident hunters can hunt snow geese in Delaware with their Maryland resident hunting license provided they obtain a Delaware License Exempt Number (LEN) specifically for hunting snow geese and they must obtain a Delaware Waterfowl (Duck) Stamp, a Federal Duck Stamp, a Delaware H.I.P. number and are in compliance with the Delaware Hunter Safety laws. When obtaining the LEN, Maryland residents will be asked to provide their Maryland DNR ID number. For more information about how to obtain a LEN see pages 7 and 8. This agreement only applies to residents of Maryland and Delaware.

CONSERVATION ORDER

The snow goose Conservation Order (CO) will reopen during the winter and spring after other waterfowl hunting is closed. When the CO is open, snow goose hunters can use unplugged shotguns and electronic calls. In addition, hunting hours are extended to a half hour before sunrise to a half hour after sunset and daily bag and possession limits are removed. All hunters hunting snow geese during the Conservation Order must have a hunting license or a valid Delaware License Exempt Number (LEN) if they are exempt from purchasing a license and all licensed hunters at least 16 years of age must purchase a Delaware Waterfowl Stamp. Maryland residents that can legally hunt in Maryland and have not purchased a nonresident Delaware license or already have a Delaware LEN, are eligible to hunt in Delaware without purchasing a license provided they obtain a LEN that is specific to hunting snow geese. Unlike other license exempt hunters that are exempt from also purchasing a Delaware Waterfowl Stamp, those hunters utilizing this specific license exemption are required to purchase the stamp. All other non-resident hunters must have a Delaware non-resident hunting license or obtain a valid Delaware LEN, and all hunters at least 16 years of age must purchase a Delaware Waterfowl Stamp unless exempt from purchasing a Delaware hunting license. A federal migratory bird (duck) stamp Delaware Harvest Information Program (HIP) number are not required to participate in the Conservation Order. Holders of a Delaware resident guide license should refer to the "Delaware Guide/Hunt License" section on page 9 for information related to reciprocity in other states. All hunters hunting during the Snow Goose Conservation Order must register for a free permit number before hunting. Your registration number can be obtained by visiting <https://de.gov/DigitalDNREC> or by calling 1-855-DEL-HUNT (1-855-335-4868). THIS PERMIT IS FREE. The need for the Delaware Waterfowl (Duck) Stamp follows the requirements on page 6 of this guide as related to hunter age. Hunters shall record their 6-digit Snow Goose CO number on their hunting license.

If the Snow Goose CO number is obtained at the same time the license is acquired, or if a hunter reprints their license after receiving their number, it will automatically be printed on the license. Hunters will also be provided a log to help them keep track of their hunting effort during the CO. When they are finished hunting, or by April 30, 2024, hunters are required to report their hunting effort by visiting <https://de.gov/DigitalDNREC> and logging into their profile or by calling 302-735-3600.

Hunters that are successfully selected during the lottery will be notified in early September. The application for the lottery may be found below and all applicants must have a valid hunting license or valid License Exempt Number by September 15, 2023. If not, their permit will be forfeited and issued to another hunter. Each permit is valid statewide but landowner permission is required to hunt on privately-owned land and hunters should refer to the information provided with their permit for rules concerning when and where tundra swan hunting is allowed on publicly-owned lands.

random lottery run by the Division. The number of permits available to non-residents will be capped and shall not exceed the percentage of non-resident hunters as determined from the most recent year for which hunting license sales were certified (17.0% were non-residents). For the 2023/24 swan season, no more than 58 tundra swan permits will be given to non-residents. However, if permits remain available after all applying Delaware residents have been issued a permit, the cap may be exceeded and any additional permits will be issued to non-residents.

The Division will issue a non-reusable tag with each permit that the successful hunter must immediately affix to the bird at the time of kill. Hunters that harvest a tundra swan are no longer required to register their bird in-person to have biological data collected by a Division Biologist or Natural Resource Police Officer. Instead, hunters must report their swan harvest using the Delaware Tundra Swan Survey and return envelope included with the original mailing in which the hunter received their permit prior to the season. All hunters receiving a permit to hunt tundra swans in Delaware, must return the survey to the Division at the end of the tundra swan season to assess hunter effort and success. Hunters are required to return this survey even if they do not hunt, or hunted but did not harvest, a tundra swan. Hunters who fail to return the survey will be ineligible for future tundra swan lotteries.

CAUTION:
Shot carries beyond the lethal range.
Hunters should use extreme caution when selecting the direction they shoot in.

DELAWARE WATERFOWL (DUCK) STAMP PROGRAM

2023 Delaware Waterfowl (Duck) Stamp

The Division of Fish and Wildlife, in partnership with Delaware Ducks Unlimited, began the waterfowl stamp and print program in 1980 to raise funds for waterfowl conservation, including acquiring and improving the wetland habitats that are vital for the survival of migratory waterfowl. These funds improve waterfowl habitat in Delaware and Canada and help to ensure that waterfowl species will prosper and provide enjoyment for generations to come.

All 2023 entries submitted had to depict a wood duck in bottomland swamp habitat typical of Delaware. The 2023 prints and stamps (as well as the 2021 and 2022 prints and stamps) will be available July 1, 2023. After June 30, 2024 the 2020 prints and stamps will be destroyed in accordance with the waterfowl stamp program policy. For information on the Delaware Waterfowl Stamp Program or to reserve and purchase prints/stamps, contact the Division at 302-739-9918 or visit our website: <http://de.gov/waterfowlstamp>.

BOATING SAFETY

Each year more hunters die from drowning and the effects of hypothermia than from gunshot wounds. Statistics show that the majority of capsizing and falls overboard occur with boats less than 20 feet in length. Some boat designs are not as stable as others. Hunters often use smaller, more easily transportable crafts like john boats, bass boats or canoes. These types of boats, because of their flat bottoms or narrow beams, are more prone to swamping or capsizing. Personal Flotation Devices (PFD's) are essential and should be worn at all times. Special wearable flotation vests and coats for hunting are available and are comfortable and warm for the coldest duck and goose hunting days.

ENGINE/PROPULSION CUT-OFF SWITCHES

In 2021, the US congress passed the "Engine cut off switch mandatory wear" law. It requires the operator to wear the ECOS (engine cut off switch) device on certain recreational vessels less than 26 in length with an engine capable of 115 lbs., which equates to about three horsepower or more. It also requires operators to use ECOS link while navigating on plane or above displacement speed. Using the ECOSL is not required when the main helm is installed within an enclosed cabin. For more information regarding this law please refer to the U.S. Coast Guard's FAQs at <https://uscgboating.org/recreational-boaters/engine-cut-off-switch-faq.php>

PRIMARY CAUSES OF HUNTING-RELATED WATER DEATHS:

- Hypothermia – The rapid loss of body heat in cold water
- "Dry" Drowning – Constriction of the throat due to a sudden inrush of water, resulting in suffocation
- "Wet" Drowning – The displacement of air in the lungs with water
- Massive Heart Attacks in older, out-of-shape non-swimmers in cold water
- Being run over by own boat, especially when starting in gear and not wearing your engine cut-off switch

Most drownings could have been prevented. Drownings occur because the victim made the wrong decision; did not realize the dangers of boating in rough, cold water; was not properly prepared; had the wrong equipment; or failed to wear a PFD (life jacket).

BOATING SAFETY TIPS:

- Wear your PFD (life jacket)
- Never cross large bodies of water during rough weather in a boat that can't take the conditions due to size and/or overloading.
- Stay with your boat if you capsize and can't get to shore. Try to climb on it.
- Avoid standing up or moving around the boat.
- Never move about your boat with a loaded firearm.
- Read the capacity plate attached to the inside hull as a guide to keep from overloading your boat.
- Distribute your gear evenly.

* Test for serviceability of PFD—All PFD's must be readily accessible, in serviceable condition, legibly marked with approval number of the U.S. Coast Guard and be of appropriate size. PFD's must have flotation material without rot or being waterlogged, untorn or damaged coverings and straps in good condition.

- Don't drink alcohol. Alcohol lowers your body's core temperature and encourages individuals to take chances they wouldn't normally take. Guns, alcohol and/or drugs don't mix. It is illegal to be in possession of a firearm while under the influence of alcohol or drugs in a public place.

DID YOU KNOW?

CPR can save your life! Cold water not only kills, but in some instances, it preserves. Warming drowning victims from the inside out by CPR or warm, moist inhalation may bring them back to life!

TAKE A BOATING EDUCATION COURSE

Those persons born on or after January 1, 1978 must take an approved boating education course before operating a boat. Contact the Office of Boating Safety and Education for more information on taking a classroom course: 302-739-9915. OR Take an online course at <http://de.gov/boatsafety>.

STATE WILDLIFE AREAS

Each year the Division accepts sealed bids for persons to trap on its wildlife areas. Bidding information is published in early August and bids are opened in early October. Bid information can be obtained through the Office of Management and Budget Bid Solicitation website at <http://bids.delaware.gov> or by calling the Division at 302-739-9912. No trapping is permitted on any Division lands without a permit.

TRAPPING PROHIBITIONS

- IT IS UNLAWFUL TO:

- Use traps to take wildlife except muskrats, mink, otter, beaver, raccoons, opossum, groundhogs, nutria, red foxes, and coyotes. Rabbits may be trapped by landowners, their tenants, or their respective children during the open season.
- Use any type of trap, except for muskrats, without marking the trap with a metal tag stating the trapper's license number and year or the trapper's name and address.
- Set traps on public or private land without first acquiring written permission from the landowner. For your convenience, trappers who wish to trap on private property may use the Private Land Trapping Permission Form on page 8 in this guide.
- Fail to visit traps, except those set for muskrats, at least once every 24 hours.
- Set traps any time before the opening day of a season or any time after the last day of a season. (There is no provision in Delaware's laws to set up traps the day before a season opens or to allow the removal of traps for several days after a season closes.)
- Set foothold traps with a jaw spread in excess of 6 1/2" above the waterline or 7 3/4" beneath the waterline. "Waterline" shall refer to beneath the surface of the water or below the mean high tide line in an area ordinarily subject to the rise and fall of the tide. Jaw spread is measured as the widest distance from this inside of both jaws on a line drawn perpendicular through the jaw pivot points when the trap is in the set position.
- Set foothold traps in areas above the waterline without them having offset, laminated, or padded jaws, with the exception being that coil-spring traps with a jaw spread of 4 inches or less and long-spring traps with a jaw spread of 4 1/2 inches or less do not need to be padded, laminated or have offset jaws.
- Set foothold traps with toothed or serrated jaws.
- Set snares, now referred to as cable restraints, without the following criteria being met: comprised of stranded steel cable with a minimum diameter of 5/64 inches. Cable restraints must be equipped with a relaxing-type lock. The cable may not exceed 7 feet in length from the anchor point to the relaxing lock and must be equipped with at least one swivel device, which allows for 360° rotation, between the loop and the anchor. The cable restraint must have stops affixed to the cable to ensure that the cable that makes up the loop may not have a circumference greater than 38 inches when fully open, or a circumference less than 6 ¼ inches when fully closed. Cable restraints with a maximum loop circumference of 12 ½ inches do not require cable stops. Cable restraints must be maintained in good condition so that all components operate properly.

- Move, take, or damage any trap, or take, or attempt to take, wildlife from any trap without first acquiring specific advance permission.
- Use killer or conibear traps with a jaw spread in excess of 5 inches.
- Use diving or box traps for muskrats.
- Set traps (except box/cage traps) within 10' of exposed meat used as bait. The use of animal fur or feathers without any attached animal tissue is not restricted.
- Trap within 100 yards of an occupied structure (unless trapper is the owner or occupant, or has permission from the owner or occupant).

TRAP TAGS

- Every trapper (licensed or license exempt trapper) must place a trap tag on every trap they set in the field for the purpose of catching snapping turtles and furbearers, excluding muskrats. While traps that are set for muskrats are not required to be tagged, the Division recommends tagging these traps because sometimes these traps may capture an animal other than a muskrat. Tagging all traps would ensure a trapper remains compliant with the rules pertaining to trap tags for any furbearer they catch.
- A trap tag is used to enable a Natural Resource Police Officer or landowner to identify the owner of the trap. Trap tags must be metallic and must be affixed to all traps, except those set to capture muskrats. The tag needs to have either the words "Trapping License, Delaware" and the trap owner's trapping license or license exempt number and the year of issuance or the owner's name and address.
- The Division will provide to any trapper (license or license exempt) a one-time allotment of 25 tags for free. Additional tags may be purchased from the Division at the R&R Front Desk for $4 per 25 tags. These Division-issued tags simply state, "Trapping License Delaware" and the trapper needs to add their personal information (engraving is recommended). Tags may also be made by the trapper or purchased from a private vendor.

TRAPPING FROM BOATS

An individual may use a boat to tend lawfully set traps for fur-bearing wildlife

RACCOONS

Raccoons may be trapped in season statewide with foothold traps, including foot encapsulating style traps, cable restraints, or box traps operated to confine but not harm the entrapped animal. The trap opening of box/cage traps may not exceed 195 square inches. At any time of the year (except on Sundays).

Raccoons may be hunted and trapped any time of the year on private land in New Castle and Kent Counties east of Rte. 13 from Federal School Lane (near the Ommelanden Range in New Castle County) south to the St. Jones River in Kent County. Where Rte. 13 and Rte. 1 split in Dover, the westerly boundary follows Rte. 1 until it meets the St. Jones River with permission from the landowner. In all other areas of the state, the regular season applies. See previous page.

COYOTES

Anyone that shoots or traps a coyote must report the harvest by contacting the Division of Fish and Wildlife at 302-735-3600 by the close of business on the day following the harvest. Harvest reports are an important way for Division biologists to track coyote distribution and abundance across the state. During any deer firearms season, it will be unlawful to hunt coyotes with any firearm that is not also legal for deer hunting except coyotes may never be harvested with a straight-walled pistol-caliber rifle or handgun. Hides of coyotes legally taken may be sold.

RIVER OTTER

Otters must be tagged by an authorized representative of the Division of Fish and Wildlife in accordance with CITES requirements. Please contact the Division at 302-735-3600 to make arrangements to have your otter tagged once the pelt has been stretched and dried but before it is sold or shipped out of state. Tags will not be distributed to trappers but instead must be affixed to otter pelts by a representative from the Division so bring your pelts with you for tagging.

BEAVER

Landowners with damage caused by beavers may take up to 8 per season (Hunting and Trapping Combined) without a permit from the Division from December 1 through March 20 provided they report their catch by April 1. Beavers may not be taken at any other time. More than 8 may be taken with a permit. Beaver hides and the meat of lawfully taken beaver harvested anywhere within or outside of Delaware may be sold.

RED FOX

It is unlawful to kill a red fox that is being pursued by dogs. During any deer firearms season, it will be unlawful to hunt red fox with any firearm that is not also legal for deer hunting except red fox may never be harvested with a straight-walled pistol-caliber rifle or handgun. It is unlawful to hunt red fox with the aid of a light.

GRAY FOX

The collateral take of gray fox shall not be unlawful south of the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal during the established hunting and trapping seasons for red fox. No take is permitted north of the canal. Anyone that shoots or traps a gray fox must report the take to the Division within 7 days of the harvest by calling 302-735-3600.

NUTRIA

Anyone that traps a nutria must report the harvest by contacting the Division of Fish and Wildlife at 302-735-3600 by the close of business on the day following the harvest. Harvest reports are an important way for Division biologists to track nutria distribution and abundance across the state. Captured nutria may not be released back into the wild alive and must be killed. Hides of nutria legally taken may be sold.

COYOTES

Adult coyotes generally weigh 20–45 pounds. Coyotes look similar to collie dogs. They have erect, pointed ears, a slender muzzle, and a bushy tail. Most coyotes are brownish gray in color with a light gray to cream-colored belly although they can vary in color from reddish to even black. Coyote tracks are often confused with those made by a red fox or domestic dog likely due to the variation in size and shape of domestic dog breeds, some of which are similar to coyotes. Coyote tracks are smaller than many people think and are oval in shape, whereas dog tracks are generally more round. Additionally, the middle toe pads of a coyote track generally point inward whereas the toe pads of a domestic dog generally do not. License $$$ Working for You

Hunting and trapping license dollars are used to "match" federal aid dollars under the Wildlife Restoration Act. License funds cover 25% of approved project costs with Federal Aid covering the rest. Now that's an investment you can "go wild" about.

Hunters exempted from purchasing a hunting license may voluntarily purchase a license which would allow the Division to match additional federal funds for those activities shown in the adjoining chart. The Division thanks all of those who volunteer to financially support wildlife conservation in this way.

TURKEY HUNTING ON STATE FOREST LANDS

The Delaware Forest Service will be issuing permits to hunt turkeys on State Forest Lands through a separate public lottery system not found within this guide. Hunters will no longer be eligible to receive a permit to hunt on both State Forests and State Wildlife Areas in the same season. The State Forest Lottery will be held after the State Wildlife Area Lottery. Hunters that successfully receive a State Wildlife Area permit, and applied for a State Forest permit, will have their State Forest application removed before the lottery takes place and they will not be eligible for the State Forest lottery. This change is being made to maximize the number of individual hunters that have an opportunity to hunt on publicly-owned land each season. Applications are due by January 5, 2024 and are available at State Forest offices or they may be found at <https://agriculture.delaware.gov/forest-service/forms-information/>

THE FOLLOWING RULES AND REGULATIONS APPLY TO ALL STATE FOREST LANDS:

- State Forests are year-round multiple use areas. Hunters share the use of State Forest Lands with other public users such as hikers, campers, horseback riders, firewood cutters, and loggers.
- No special permits are required to hunt on State Forest lands, except as specified in the DNREC Division of Fish and Wildlife annual Hunting and Trapping Guide. Properly licensed hunters may hunt during any open season except on areas designated, such as those marked with Wildlife Sanctuary, NO HUNTING, Safety Zones signs, or Closed to Public White-tailed Deer Hunting.
- Portions of State Forest tracts will be closed to public white-tailed deer hunting from September 1st - January 31st. Please contact each State Forest for a list of these closures.
- Hunting is only permitted as specified on State Forest maps available free-of-charge from State Forest offices and online at <https://agriculture.delaware.gov/forest-service/maps/>.
- Sunday hunting is prohibited on all State Forest property.
- No permanent deer stands, platforms, ladders, or blinds may be constructed. No screw-in steps, tree spikes, screws, or nails are allowed. All parts of temporary (portable) deer stands must be removed on the final day of the January muzzleloader season; any stands remaining after this date will be removed and become property of the Delaware Forest Service. Stands may be placed after August 1 prior to the start of the new year's hunting season. Owners of deer stands left on Delaware State Forest lands during the designated time period are required to tag/clearly identify their stand with the owners name and phone number. Failure to do you will result in removal of the

RULES FOR DELAWARE STATE PARK LANDS

(ADMINISTERED BY DIVISION OF PARKS AND RECREATION)

State Parks are year-round multiple use areas. Hunters share park lands with other recreational user groups including hikers, bikers, runners, equestrians and others.

Deer hunting is an important management tool used by natural resource managers to reduce the impact of deer on the natural communities in Delaware's state parks. Deer hunting is permitted in nine of Delaware's seventeen state parks. Limited recreational small game and waterfowl hunting is also permitted in a few state parks.

Sunday hunting and hunting with a handgun or rifle are not permitted in Delaware state parks.

A State Park Registration fee ($10) is required to hunt on State Park lands. Register at any State Park where hunting is permitted or the DNREC office at 89 Kings Highway in Dover. Your registration is good for all State Parks where hunting is permitted for the season. Include your E-mail address on the registration or send a request to be added to our hunting mailing list to DNREC_StatePark_Hunting@delaware.gov to receive information about Special Hunt opportunities and other hunting program updates.

State Park Rules are generally more restrictive than on State Wildlife Areas. You can obtain the rules and maps specific for the Park you intend to hunt, at that park's office, on the State Parks website at <https://www.destateparks.com/Adventures/Hunting>, by email request to DNREC_StatePark_Hunting@delaware.gov or by calling 302-739-9220.

RULES FOR BOMBAY HOOK AND PRIME HOOK NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGES

Stretched along the eastern coastline of Delaware near Milton and Smyrna and covering 26,000 acres, the Bombay Hook and Prime Hook National Wildlife Refuges provide habitat for a diversity of wildlife.

Game species are sought after by avid hunters on both refuges. Hunting, which is identified by the National Wildlife Refuge System Improvement Act of 1997 as one of the six wildlife-dependent recreational uses on refuges, is an important part of Delaware's heritage and tradition. Public hunting opportunities are available for deer, upland game and webless migratory birds, and waterfowl on both refuges. A complete listing of hunting information and regulations can be accessed for Bombay Hook National Wildlife Refuge at <https://fws.gov/refuge/bombay-hook> or 302-653-9345 and for Prime Hook National Wildlife Refuge at <https://www.fws.gov/refuge/prime-hook> or 302-684-8419.

Application Information:

- Print all information clearly. Illegible information could result in application being rejected.
- Submitting more than one application per individual will result in disqualification.
- Select each area 1 time only. Listing an area more than once does not change your odds of being drawn.
- Awarded permits are non-transferable and hunters may only receive one public land permit each season, either a State Wildlife Area or a State Forest permit, not both.
- Remember: You can't apply for a State Wildlife Area Turkey Permit if you have not completed an approved Turkey Hunting Safety Class unless you are a youth under the age of 13 and will be directly supervised by a person 21 years or older while hunting that has completed the class.
- If you are selected for a 2024 permit, failure to accurately complete and return the Division provided survey card will result in disqualification from the 2025 lottery.

WILDLIFE AREA SPOTLIGHTS:

AUGUSTINE WILDLIFE AREA

Lying along the western shore of the Delaware River, the Augustine Wildlife Area stretches from the bank of the C&D Canal south to the Appoquinimink River. The 5 major tracts (Lang, Ashton, Warren/Faella, Silver Run, and Green) are scattered along the Route 9 corridor, and encompass approximately 5,200 acres of upland and tidal marsh habitats. Just south of the town of Port Penn, visitors will find the Augustine Beach boat ramp. This ramp is a popular site for shoreline and boat anglers looking to target the striped bass which migrate up the river to spawn each spring, as well as provides the opportunity to catch white perch, catfish, and a multitude of other species on the Delaware River and surrounding creeks and marshes.

The newest addition to the Augustine Wildlife area is the Ashton Tract, which backs up to and contains a portion of the 1000 Acre Marsh. This 550+ acre tract received its name from the Ashton Historic District, of which two of the original historic homes remain on site today. Consisting of a mixture of freshwater marsh, upland forest, early successional meadows, and agricultural fields, this tract is rapidly gaining notoriety for the exceptional bird watching that can be experienced there. To provide better access to this property and the birding resource, the Division of Fish and Wildlife has recently completed the construction of a short trail and wildlife viewing platform as part of the Delaware Bayshore Initiative. Visitors to this trail will notice the numerous habitat improvements underway throughout the property including phragmites control, invasive species and forest restoration, creation of early successional meadows, and the restoration of a freshwater impoundment. The Ashton Tract also provides excellent hunting opportunities for those seeking deer, waterfowl, and small game. Currently the area is only open to youth and non-ambulatory deer hunting but opens to everyone for waterfowl hunting. Drawings for the deer stands and waterfowl blinds are conducted daily in season at the Augustine check station.

Another highlight of the Augustine Wildlife Area is the Lang Impoundment which is located along Route 9 just north of Port Penn. This impoundment provides waterfowl and migrating shorebirds a great place to stop and rest and feed while on their long migrations. During the summer months this impoundment also serves as a key feeding area for many of the herons and egrets that nest on the nearby Pea Patch Island. With Restoration efforts underway and the dike repairs made vegetation communities should continue to change and provide a resting and feeding spot for migrating waterfowl and shore birds. To view this area better there has been a viewing platform established on the Port Penn Tract funded by the Bayshore initiative.

Whether you're looking for a new place to hunt, fish, view wildlife, or just taking a Sunday drive on the Route 9 Bayshore Byway, take a few minutes to explore the Augustine Wildlife Area, there truly is something for everyone.

ASSAWOMAN WILDLIFE AREA

The Assawoman Wildlife Area is one of the busiest State Wildlife Areas managed by the Delaware Division of Fish and Wildlife. Located in Sussex County on Little Assawoman Bay, the southernmost of the three Inland Bays, it is "a stone's throw" from the ocean at Bethany Beach. The lands of what would become Assawoman Wildlife Area were assembled from 1936 to 1942 by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's (USDA) Forestry Service under a farm abandonment program designed to help struggling farmers. In 1948, the Delaware Board of Fish and Wildlife Commissioners signed a 99 year lease on 1,460 acres with the USDA for the "purpose of wildlife, recreation and forest management," purchasing the same lands in 1954 to establish Assawoman Wildlife Area. The original acreage was supplemented in 1989 with the purchase of the Hickman Tract (227 acres) to protect Assawoman Pond, which contains a very rare plant, Hirst's panicgrass, one of only three known occurrences in the world. Expansion of the area continued between 1989 and 1997 with an additional 830 acres acquired as six tracts. And this year in an area adjacent to the Hickman Tract the area grew by 15 acres on wetlands thanks to a donation by the Bessie Shockley estate in December 2022.

In 1984, endangered Delmarva fox squirrels were released onto the area to restore the species to Delaware. That population never established and, in the fall of 2020, a second attempt to trap wild squirrels in Maryland where they are plentiful and to move them to Delaware was made. The subsequent batches of additional squirrels were released into forests with large pines which they prefer and monitored for the last 2 years using radio collars. Young Delmarva Fox Squirrel born at Assawoman were caught in the fall of 2022 proving that the project has early success.

Today, Assawoman Wildlife Area has become a destination for hunters, crabbers, boaters and birdwatchers who seek respite from the colorful beach life of Bethany and Fenwick Island.

The property has many interesting features. Two historic pavilions, built from 1935 - 1936 under President Roosevelt's Public Works Administration's New Deal program, are located at two popular crabbing and boat launching areas — Strawberry and Mulberry Landings. A 50-foot tall observation tower along Mulberry Landing Road provides a view of Mulberry and 65-Acre Ponds, impoundments built to attract water birds and control mosquitos. Hunters will find 20 duck blinds and 81 deer stands camouflaged and ready for each season. Memorial Pond is stocked with bass and bluegills and open to "catch & release" fishing year-round. The four mile long Self-Guided Auto Tour leads motorists over dirt roads through the wildlife area to numbered posts corresponding to points of interest described in the interpretive guide. Hikers, bikers and birdwatchers can follow the seven miles of roads to enjoy the loblolly pine and American holly forest, abundant bird life and beautiful vistas.

Several projects are "in the pipeline" including replacing the observation tower at Mulberry Pond with a viewing platform and boardwalk and a parking lot upgrade at Mulberry Landing Boat Ramp. A pier on new lands at Piney Point was improved to provide crabbing and fishing on Vines Creek in January 2023. This winter the over 50 acres of tidal marshes north of Miller Creek were restored with materials dredged from Whites Creek in Ocean View pumped over 5 miles and evenly spread across degraded marshes. And finally freshwater wetlands will be created in farmed fields at Muddy Neck to help mitigate the impacts from a new bike path along Double Bridges Road soon.

Come discover Assawoman Wildlife Area, the "hidden jewel" of the Inland Bays.

DELAWARE HUNTER EDUCATION PROGRAM

THE DELAWARE HUNTER EDUCATION PROGRAM

Delaware's Hunter Education Program was established in 1970. Section 501, Title 7, Delaware Code, requires all persons born after January 1, 1967 to satisfactorily complete a Basic Hunter Education Course in order to obtain a Delaware hunting license or Youth Hunting License. Since 1970, tens of thousands of Delaware hunters have been certified by the volunteer instructors of the Delaware Hunter Education Program. The program has been extremely successful and effective in significantly reducing risk and accidents.

Emerging factors such as changing demographics and the decreasing amount of habitat and accessible open space for hunting have created new considerations for hunters, landowners, the Division of Fish and Wildlife and Delaware's general public who may or may not be hunters themselves. In response, the Delaware Hunter Education Program has also changed to meet the demands and challenges of a new hunting era. In addition to a live firing requirement, today's curriculum includes an increased emphasis on safety and ethical behavior, landowner relations, wildlife identification, wildlife management and conservation, hunting laws and regulations.

The Delaware Hunter Education Program is committed to preserving Delaware's heritage of fair chase hunting. In addition to mandatory Basic Hunter Education, Turkey Education and Trapper Education courses, the program offers advanced courses in Bowhunting, Muzzleloading, Handgun Hunting for Deer, Successful Deer Hunting, Precision Firearms for Large Game, Young Waterfowler's Program, Deer Workshops, etc.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Courses including live firing are offered free of charge throughout the year. Certification will not be issued to any person under the age of ten (10). All firearms and ammunition are provided by the Hunter Education Program. Please try to complete your training at least one month before you plan to hunt. Your certification cards can be printed online a few days after you complete the course. The card must be presented to purchase a Delaware hunting license.

ADVANCE REGISTRATION IS REQUIRED.

Seating is limited and classes will fill quickly as hunting season approaches. Delaware law now requires live firing of a shotgun as part of basic hunter education.

YOUTH PARTICIPANTS

Certification will not be issued to youths under the age of ten. Students under the age of twelve must be accompanied by a responsible adult. Parents are reminded that younger students require a level of maturity and vocabulary sufficient for understanding adult subject matter and completing assignments. Students of smaller physical body size may find it very difficult or impossible to successfully complete live firing exercises.
