HUNTING REGULATIONS

See What's New for 2025-2026 on page 3

For all Migratory Game Bird, Upland Game Bird and Crow hunting seasons from September 1, 2025 through May 31, 2026 and other associated regulations

Don't be a tick target!

Indoors

Soft ticks hide out in rodent nests at elevations over 1,500 feet, and can bite briefly and painlessly at night while you sleep. These ticks can transmit soft tick relapsing fever.

- » Avoid staying in dwellings with rodent infestations (including chipmunks or squirrels nesting under the house or in the attic).
- » For home or cabin owners, consult a pest control professional to safely remove nests, treat for ticks, and seal up any cracks or crevices where ticks can pass.
- » Wear an EPA-registered insect repellent.

Outdoors

Hard ticks hide out in forested areas and tall grasses where they search for their next meal. They can latch on and remain attached for days. These ticks can transmit several tickborne diseases in Oregon, including Lyme disease and Rocky Mountain spotted fever.

- » Check your whole body and your clothing for ticks daily. If found, remove ticks as soon as possible.
- » Wear an EPA-registered insect repellent.
- » Check pets for ticks, and use tick prevention for your dog.

DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

Exciting news for duck hunters—the daily bag limit for pintail, an abundant wintering species in the Pacific Flyway, will increase to three this season!

ODFW and our partners across the flyways worked with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS) to revise the national harvest strategy that led to the increase in the pintail bag limit this season, and future seasons if supported by the data. The many years of data collected by USFWS Waterfowl Breeding Population and Habitat Survey helped inform the decision. This survey is one of largest and longest-running wildlife surveys in the world, ongoing since 1955!

The good news also continues for upland bird populations. Many of Oregon's populations have flourished in recent years, particularly chukar and quail in southern and eastern Oregon, thanks to the above average precipitation seen in recent years. Sage-grouse have also benefited from the respite in drought conditions. This spring, we recorded some of the highest lek counts we've seen in Oregon since 2005. It's thanks to sage-grouse hunters that we can estimate annual productivity (i.e., chicks per hen and proportion juveniles in the harvest), by using hunter-returned wings.

From returning wings and tails that help us monitor upland bird populations, to the purchase of hunting licenses, products and equipment that fund wildlife management, hunters continue to be the backbone of wildlife conservation. I want to take a moment to say thank you to hunters for all you do to support conservation. Be sure to get outdoors with your friends, family and your hunting dog this season and make the most of Oregon's many bird hunting opportunities!

YOUR OREGON GAME BIRD STAMP DOLLARS AT WORK

Oregon game bird stamps have been providing funds to maintain healthy game bird populations in the state for more than 35 years. The Oregon migratory waterfowl stamp began in 1984 and the upland bird stamp followed in 1990. The stamps (now called validations) are purchased by game bird hunters in conjunction with the general hunting license. Collectively, sales of game bird stamps and related artwork generate nearly $1 million each year. Funds are used to accomplish a variety of program-related activities, such as game bird research and banding, equipment purchases, and habitat improvement and conservation projects.

MIGRATORY BIRD HUNTERS: DON'T SKIP HIP

The Harvest Information Program (HIP) is a legally required validation for migratory bird hunters that helps biologists manage migratory birds.

Migratory game birds include ducks, geese, brant, doves, band-tailed pigeons, coots, and snipe.

KNOW BEFORE YOU GO: CHECK FIRE RESTRICTIONS!

It is a hunter's responsibility to check fire restrictions before heading afield. Check with the land manager where you plan to hunt. To see a list of industrial forestland closures/restrictions visit oregon.gov/ODF and click fire restrictions & closures, then click Check industrial fire restrictions button.

Most common fire restrictions

- No smoking
- No off-road driving
- No exploding targets or tracer ammunition
- Check if camp/warming fires are allowed. If open fires are permitted, make sure the fire is truly out when you're done.

NEW TO HUNTING?

Game bird hunting is available across Oregon and is a great way to begin hunting. ODFW has a resource webpage to help you start hunting game birds. On the page, you’ll discover: where to hunt, when to hunt, various game species, and the basic gear and equipment you’ll need to get started.

Scan the QR code or type in the URL to visit the resource page now: myodfw.com/articles/start-hunting-game-birds

NOTICE TO HUNTERS

In an effort to make these regulations easier to understand, at times simplified language is used. ODFW’s intention is for these summarized regulations to be consistent with the actual language in Oregon Statutes and Administrative Rules, but in the event of an inconsistency the statutes and administrative rules take precedence. The actual wording of relevant Oregon Revised Statutes and Oregon Administrative Rules can be found at: odfw.com/oars and secure.sos.state.or.us/oard/processLogin.action.

Violation of state migratory game bird hunting regulations is a violation of federal regulations. Each hunter should consult the actual federal regulations in Title 50 Code of Federal Regulations, Part 20. Also, more restrictive regulations may apply to NWRs open to public hunting. For additional information on federal regulations, contact Resident Agent in Charge, USFWS, 9025 SW Hillman Ct, Suite 3134, Wilsonville, OR 97070; Phone: 503-682-6131.

Legal Weapons & Ammunition for Hunting Game Birds, Crows, and Western Gray Squirrels

Below are the requirements for weapons that can be used to hunt game birds, crows, and western gray squirrels. In addition to these restrictions some WAs, NWRs, RHAs and other special areas may have further weapon restrictions.

Game Birds, including Wild Turkey, and Crows (except Ruffed and Blue Grouse) may only be hunted with:

- Shotguns, including muzzleloading shotguns, (see definition on page 12) that are 10 gauge or smaller, and which are incapable of holding more than three shells (plugged), or

- Any non-matchlock muzzleloader, or
- Any recurve, long, or compound bow¹ using any type of arrow, or small game point or broadhead, except if broadheads are used they must be unbarbed and at least 7/8" wide. Broadheads with movable blades that fold/collapse when withdrawn are not considered barbed.

Additionally, game birds and crows may be taken by licensed falconers using raptors (see Falconry Regulations).

Game birds and crows may not be hunted with airguns. Game birds, crows, and western gray squirrels may not be hunted with crossbows or any other method not listed in the previous sections.

 - » Interfering in the acts of a person who is lawfully hunting, trapping, or angling.
 - Shoot game birds from or with the help of any motorboat or sailboat unless the motor has been shut off and/or sail furl and its progress therefrom has ceased. Sail and motor-propelled craft may be used only to pick up dead or crippled birds. Crippled birds may not be shot from such craft under power.

A baited area is considered to be baited for 10 days after complete removal of any bait. Baiting includes placing, exposing, depositing, distributing, or scattering of salt, grain, or other feed that could serve as a lure or attraction for game birds to, on, or over areas where hunters are attempting to take them.

GENERAL HUNTING REGULATIONS

Disguising Sex

It is unlawful to disguise the sex or kind of any wildlife while in the field or in transit from the field. The head or one fully feathered wing must be left attached to all game birds in the field or while in transit to the place of permanent residence of the possessor.

NOTE: Private hunting preserves are excluded from this regulation. Further restrictions apply to the Northwest Oregon Permit Goose Zone, see page 18.

Retrieval/Waste

All game birds killed or crippled must be retrieved immediately, if possible, and kept by the hunter in the field except for internal organs. All crippled birds reduced to possession must be immediately killed.

It is unlawful to waste any game birds or edible portions thereof. Waste means to allow any edible portion of any game bird to be rendered unfit for human consumption, or to fail to retrieve game birds from the field. "Edible portions" of game birds means, at a minimum, the meat of the breast associated with the sternum. The duty to retrieve and to not waste does not justify otherwise criminal conduct including but not limited to trespass.

Tags and Permits

There are two options for tagging or recording harvest on a permit: paper or electronic. Hunters must choose one option at the time of purchase.

Paper

The owner of a tag/permit that kills a turkey/fee pheasant for which a tag/permit is issued, shall immediately record such taking on the tag/permit in ink. For spring and fall turkey, the tag must be attached in plain sight securely to the turkey.

- To keep the tag legible, one option is to place it in a plastic bag to protect it.
- Paper tags must be signed upon purchase or prior to use in the field.
- It is unlawful to have in possession an unsigned, altered (including laminated), reproduced, photocopied, and/or resized tag/permit.

Resized: In relation to permits and tags, resized means to change the dimensions of a permit or tag, either electronically or physically, from the original size as printed on 8.5" x 11" (letter) paper; trimming to the border of the document itself after printing to original size is allowed.

Electronic

When the owner of any tag/permit kills a turkey/fee pheasant for which an electronic tag/permit is issued, the owner shall immediately record the harvest by pressing the "Validate"/"Add Harvest" button in the MyODFW mobile application. Follow the prompts and complete the process by clicking "Save".

- After spring or fall turkey tag validation, a confirmation number will become visible. The tag owner's name, date of birth, ODFW ID number, harvest date, and confirmation number must be written in ink on material of the tag owner's choice (options include flagging tape, duct tape, and paper in a plastic bag to protect it) and attached in plain sight securely to the turkey.

All Tags/Permits

- Tag, permit, and electronic tag validation information must be maintained in legible condition at all times.
- The electronic tag validation information or paper tag, must be kept attached to the carcass or remain with any parts as long as any parts are preserved.
- All hunters who purchase a turkey tag or beardless turkey permit are required to report. See page 22 for more information.

Possession and Transport

Possession limit means the maximum number of birds that a person may lawfully possess (includes fresh, frozen, or otherwise processed) in the field or in transit to place of permanent residence (see pages 16, 17, 20, 21, and 25 for possession limits). Game birds shipped or given to another person for transport during the season or within 48 hours after the season closes must be accompanied by a written note listing the number and kinds; date killed; name and address of possessor; and signature, address and hunting license number of the hunter. Birds transported more than 48 hours after the season closes must bear a shipping permit or metal seal from ODFW. Shipping permits or metal seals are available at any ODFW regional or district office and any Oregon State Police office.

Field Possession Limit: No person may possess, have in custody, or transport more than the daily bag limit or aggregate daily bag limit, whichever applies, of migratory game birds, tagged or not tagged, at or between the place where taken and either (a) automobile or principal means of land transportation; or (b) personal abode or temporary or transient place of lodging; (c) migratory bird preservation facility; (d) Post Office; or (e) common carrier facility.

Hunting Prohibited

It is unlawful to:

- Hunt on any refuge closed by state or federal government.
- Hunt within corporate limits of any city or town (unless otherwise authorized, see OAR 635-051-0048); public park or cemetery; or on any campus or grounds of a public school, college, or university.
- Hunt or shoot from or across a public Rd, Rd right-of-way or railroad right-of-way, except persons legally hunting on Rds closed to use of motor vehicles by the public.
- Hunt in any safety zones created and posted by ODFW.

Other Restrictions

It is unlawful to:

- Take furbearers, except in compliance with furbearing mammal regulations.
- Disturb or remove the traps or snares of any licensed trapper while that person is trapping on public lands or on other land by landowner's permission.
- Use an artificial light for hunting any wildlife, except raccoon, bobcat and opossum provided the light is not cast from or attached to a motor vehicle. This includes laser sights or any other sights which project a beam to the target, including scopes with electronic rangefinders and scopes that receive information from a rangefinder or any electronic device. This does not include battery operated sights which only light the reticle.
- Sell, trade, barter, exchange, or offer for sale, trade, barter, or exchange any game bird parts, or game bird feathers thereof EXCEPT as identified in OAR 635, Division 200.
- Disturb, damage, remove, alter, or possess any official ODFW sign.
- Knowingly provide false information to the Department or Commission on any report required by law.
- Counsel, aid, or assist in any violation of the wildlife laws, or share in any of the proceeds of such violation by receiving or possessing any wildlife. Any person who violates this rule shall incur the penalties provided for the person guilty of such violation.
- Release without a permit any wildlife brought from another state or country, or raised in captivity in this state.
- Refuse inspection of any license, tag, or permit, and any wildlife taken, by an employee of ODFW, any person authorized to enforce wildlife laws, or a landowner or agent of the landowner on their land.
- Refuse inspection of any gear used for the purpose of taking wildlife by an employee of the ODFW, or any person authorized to enforce wildlife laws.

UPLAND GAME BIRD EMERGENCY CLOSURES

- When snow is deep, upland game birds can concentrate in high numbers, leaving them vulnerable to unethical hunters. ODFW has procedures in place to allow early closure of the season in unusually severe winter weather.
- Emergency closures will only take effect on either the 15th or the last day of the month.
- For example, if winter conditions do not warrant the closure of chukar season on Dec. 31st, the season will extend at least through Jan. 14th.
- Closures will be by Co and publicized as widely as possible.

FIELD DRESSING OF GAME BIRDS — WHAT'S LEGAL?

Hunters understand the importance to care for meat while in the field to protect it from spoiling. However, what is not understood by many is the legal requirements necessary to transport dressed birds from the field. Some hunters commonly practice “breasting” birds out and discarding the rest of the carcass before getting home. This is not legal and hunters need to note the following:

The head or one fully feathered wing must be left attached to all game birds in the field or while in transit to the place of permanent residence of the possessor. Further restrictions apply to the Northwest Oregon Permit Goose Zone, see pages 18.

So why is this necessary? There are many restrictions on sex and species of birds that can be included in your daily bag. Leaving a head or wing attached allows law enforcement personnel to identify the birds taken by a hunter. You can be cited if it is not possible to determine the types of birds in your possession.

The edible portion of a game bird means, at a minimum the meat of the breast associated with the sternum. However, the Department encourages hunters to consume meat from the leg (drumstick), thigh, and wing when practicable. Many hunters don't realize how much meat is lost when just the breast is consumed. On most game birds, 25% to 35% of the meat is found on just the legs and thighs, with only 55% to 60% found on the breast.

Pages 11-14 of this booklet outlines the important regulation for hunting game birds in Oregon. Please familiarize yourself with all these regulations.

- E. E. Wilson WA
- Sauvie Island WA, except the Eastside, Westside and Oak Island Units. See open season and bag limit exceptions above.

Permit Requirements

In addition to hunting license and stamp/validation requirements, hunters must possess an annual Northwest Goose Permit while hunting. To be eligible to obtain a Northwest Goose Permit, hunters must have passed a goose identification test provided by the Oregon or Washington Departments of Fish and Wildlife after 1996 and have a valid Northwest Goose Certification on file with ODFW. Hunters who successfully complete a goose test in Washington are eligible to receive a permit in Oregon, please call 503-947-6301 for more information. A permit is not needed to hunt during the September Goose Season.

To obtain study material and take the goose identification test, please visit myodfw.com/articles/hunting-northwest-goose-permit-zone. The test can be taken a maximum of three times per season. If you fail the test a third time in one season you will need to wait until the next season to test again. After passing the test, hunters may obtain a Northwest Goose Permit online or anywhere ODFW licenses are sold.

Dusky Canada geese are closed to harvest, the permit will become invalid for the remainder of the season if the holder takes any dusky Canada goose. In addition, it is a wildlife violation to take or possess a dusky Canada goose. Hunters who have their permit invalidated for taking a dusky Canada goose may obtain a new permit for subsequent seasons by retaking and passing the goose identification test.

VETERANS AND ACTIVE MILITARY PERSONNEL WATERFOWL HUNT

Season Date

Jan. 31, 2026

Shooting Hours

See table on page 8 for legal shooting hours, except in the Northwest Permit Zone legal shooting hours for geese are 7:27 a.m. to 5:25 p.m.

Bag Limit

Hunters may take ducks (including mergansers), coots and geese at the established bag limits (see pages 16-17).

Eligibility

Veterans (as defined in section 101 of title 38, United States Code) and members of the Armed Forces on active duty, including members of the National Guard and Reserves on active duty (other than for training), may participate (federal regulation defines those eligible to participate in this hunt).

Requirements

Each hunter must have in possession:

- A valid hunting license
- A valid state waterfowl or nonresident game bird validation
- A valid HIP validation
- A valid Federal Duck stamp
- Valid proof of veterans or active duty status issued by the U.S. Department of Defense or Veteran's Affairs.

Open Areas

Statewide. However, some public lands may not be open for hunting during this season. Please check with the appropriate management agency before hunting during this hunt. All ODFW WAs, except those with seasonal closures to protect big game (Elkhorn, Bridge Creek, etc.) are open for this hunt. Daily hunt permits, where required during the regular season, are required. At Fern Ridge WA (East, West, and South Coyote units) and Sauvie Island WA (Eastside, Westside and Oak Island) public hunt permits will be issued through a random drawing conducted at the check stations. For check station locations see pages 34-37.

Hunters wishing to participate in the drawings at Sauvie Island must be in the vehicle line at the Westside check station 1-1/2 hours before shooting time or the reservation vehicle line at the Eastside check station 2 hours before shooting time (page 8). Each hunter will be given the opportunity to draw a random number and hunters in parties (up to four members who must all be eligible to participate in the hunt) will be assigned the lowest random number drawn among the party's members. Hunters will be called via AM Radio Station 1580 to the check station in the order of their draw number (lowest to highest) to choose hunting sites and obtain public hunt area permits. Hunters arriving after random numbers are distributed will be issued remaining public hunt area permits on a first-come, first-served basis. Shooting hours end at 4:00 p.m. and all hunters must check out at check stations by 6:00 p.m.

Hunters wishing to hunt in the East, West, and South Coyote units at Fern Ridge must be present at the check station 1-1/2 hours before shooting time. Each hunter will be given the opportunity to draw a random number. WA staff will then draw from a corresponding set of numbers to determine the order for choosing hunting sites. Hunters successful during the drawing may be accompanied by one hunting guest (must also be eligible to participate in the hunt). Shooting hours close at 1:00 p.m. and close to all public access at 2:00 p.m. Hunters must check out using the self-check out boxes located in the parking lots.

DON'T SHOOT IF IT'S A SPRUCE GROUSE

Spruce grouse are protected in Oregon and are not open to hunting

Spruce grouse only occur in the Wallowa Mountains of Baker, Union, and Wallowa counties of northeastern Oregon. Our small population of spruce grouse is likely geographically isolated from neighboring birds in Washington and Idaho, so we need to take extra care to protect them.

Spruce grouse are smaller than both blue and ruffed grouse. Male spruce grouse have a red eye comb, a black patch that covers the throat and upper chest, and white spotting on the lower chest. Females are browner and have white barring on the chest. Spruce grouse are often less wary of humans than blue and ruffed grouse. If you are grouse hunting in the Wallowa Mountains, please take the time to educate yourself on how to identify a spruce grouse before going out in the field.

WILD TURKEY SEASONS

All Hunters

- Hunters may purchase tags and permits through the end of the season.
- Must possess a valid turkey tag or permit (see page 24 for beardless turkey permit hunts).
- If you purchase a Sports Pac, you have the option to select a spring turkey tag or a voucher for a fall turkey tag, which can be redeemed beginning July 1st.
- It is unlawful to use shotguns larger than 10 gauge and shot size larger than No. 2
- See page 12 for additional legal hunting methods.
- Dogs may be used during the fall season, but not during the spring season.
- For shooting hours, see page 8.

Tagging Requirements

The following are the tagging requirements for hunters that purchase a spring, spring youth, or fall turkey tag. Separate rules apply for beardless turkey permit hunts (see page 24).

Tagging

There are two options for tagging a turkey: paper tags or electronic tags. Hunters must choose one option at the time of purchase.

Paper Tags:

- The owner of a turkey tag that kills a turkey for which a paper tag is issued shall immediately validate the tag by writing on the tag, in ink, the date and time of harvest, and the WMU where harvest occurred; and attach the tag in plain sight securely to the turkey.

Electronic Tags:

- When the owner of any turkey tag kills a turkey for which an electronic tag is issued the owner shall immediately validate the tag by pressing the "Validate" button on the image of the tag in the MyODFW mobile application. Follow the prompts and complete the tag validation process by clicking "Save". After validation, a confirmation number will become visible.
 - » In addition to validating a tag electronically, the tag owner's name, date of birth, ODFW ID number, harvest date, and confirmation number must be written in ink on material of the tag owner's choice (options include flagging tape, duct tape, and paper in a plastic bag to protect it), and attached in plain sight securely to the turkey.

Reporting Requirements

All hunters who purchased a turkey tag or beardless turkey permit are required to report online at huntfishoregon.com by logging in and selecting Mandatory Reporting, or at a license sales agent.

- For 2025 fall tags and beardless turkey permits, the deadline is April 15, 2026.
- For 2026 spring tags, the deadline is Jan. 31, 2027.

REPORTING TURKEY BANDS

Please report turkey bands online at: odfw.wufoo.com/forms/hunters-please-report-banded-turkeys/ or call 503-947-6301.

SMALL GAME HUNTING

Small game species provide a variety of hunting opportunities throughout the state and are an excellent way to introduce new hunters to hunting. Only the appropriate hunting license is necessary to hunt small game (no tags or permits). The western gray squirrel is a "game mammal" with specific season dates. Many species of what hunters consider "small game" are "unprotected mammals".

Western Gray Squirrel

A hunting license is required to hunt western gray squirrels. Western gray squirrels can only be hunted during the seasons listed below.

North - Central Oregon

Open Season: Sept. 15 - Oct. 31

Bag Limit: 3 squirrels daily.

Possession Limit: 6 in possession.

Open Area: Units 34, 35, 39, 41 and 42.

Remainder of the State

Open Season: Sept. 1 - Nov. 15

Bag Limit: 5 squirrels daily.

Possession Limit: 15 in possession.

Open Area: Units 10-33, 36-38, 40, 43-77.

Exception: No bag limit or closed season in that part of Unit 30 south of Rogue Rvr and S Fork Rogue Rvr and north of Hwy 140.

See Big Game Hunting Regulations for WMU boundary descriptions.

Unprotected Mammals

Unprotected mammals are not covered under the game mammal, furbearer, or sensitive species rules. For unprotected mammals, there are no closed seasons or bag limits. However, a hunting license is required and all general hunting regulations still apply. Commonly hunted unprotected mammals include coyote, cottontail rabbits, black-tailed jackrabbit, opossum, nutria, California ground squirrel, and Belding's ground squirrels.

LEARN TO HUNT GAME BIRDS

Throughout the year, ODFW hosts several learn-to-hunt workshops designed to teach beginning hunters (or those who need a refresher) how to hunt game birds in Oregon. Participants learn how to handle firearms safely, hunt game birds, and clean birds after harvesting. Focus species include pheasant, waterfowl, and wild turkey. Participants are required to complete an ODFW Shotgun Skills course before participating in a pheasant or waterfowl workshop. To register for ODFW workshops, visit myodfw.com/workshops-and-events. Workshops update seasonally, so be sure to check before your season starts.

Note:

Mentored youth can only take an animal the supervising hunter could legally harvest. Youth Hunts do not qualify under the Mentored Youth Hunter Program because the supervising hunter cannot legally hunt during a Youth Hunt.

ACCESS AREA PROGRAMS

ODFW provides public hunting access to millions of acres of private land through the various access programs described below. These programs involve trust. ODFW trusts landowners to provide a reasonable amount of public access. Landowners trust hunters to remember they are guests on the land, follow the written restrictions, and abide by the spirit of respect and cooperation required to make this program successful. Remember, hunting on private lands is a privilege, not a right.

Access and Habitat Program (A&H)

Through the A&H Program, the Department provides hunting access to approximately 35 "Access Areas" on private land, many of which offer game bird hunting. Enrolled properties can be found at: myodfw.com/articles/hunting-private-lands-access-habitat-program. The A&H Program also administers the Oregon Open Fields program, which expands upland hunting access in the Columbia Basin and provides public goose hunting opportunities in the Willamette Valley. Please visit myodfw.com/open-fields-program for more details or contact the A&H Program Coordinator at 503-947-6087.

Upland Cooperative Access Program (UCAP)

UCAP provides public upland game bird hunting opportunities in Wasco, Sherman, Gilliam and Morrow counties. Most landowners provide "Hunting by Permission" while others opt for "Welcome to Hunt" or Hunt By Reservation. Hunters must take the initiative to locate UCAP properties. The ODFW contacts listed on this page will provide general directions to UCAP properties. However, the hunter is responsible for contacting the landowner to schedule a hunt on "Hunting by Permission" properties. The extra effort ensures landowners that only responsible hunters are guests on their land. For more information contact: Heppner District Office: 541-676-5230; The Dalles District Office: 541-296-4628; Upland Game Bird Coordinator: 503-947-6323.

Travel Management Areas

Through cooperative agreement, motor vehicle use, including electric assisted bicycles, is limited to specific roads for dates and areas listed under Travel Management Areas in the current Oregon Big Game Hunting Regulations.

ACCESS PROGRAM REGULATIONS

It is unlawful to hunt or enter any posted area without written permission unless the area is posted as "Welcome to Hunt." Hunters accessing A&H "Welcome to Hunt" properties are required to follow the area regulations printed on the map produced by ODFW for each Access Area. Specific regulations for each Access Area can be found through the Oregon Hunting Map at: myodfw.com/articles/hunting-access-map.

Heppner RHA

This Regulated Hunt Area (RHA) provides access for big game and upland bird hunting opportunities. Closed to all motor vehicle use year-round unless posted otherwise, open fires and camping prohibited in posted areas. Approximately 23 sq Mi in T3, 4 and 5S and R26, 27, and 28E.

Columbia Rvr RHA

No entry permit required and open seven days-a-week. Hunt area boundary: Beginning at the eastern city limits of Arlington; east on I-84 to Threemile Canyon (Mi post 151); north to the north side of the Union Pacific Railroad right-of-way; east on the railroad right-of-way to the boundary of the Umatilla NWR Boardman Unit; north to the Oregon/Washington state line; west on the Oregon/Washington state line to a point due north of the eastern city limits of Arlington; due south to the point of beginning.

Area is open for game bird, rabbit, and Eurasian collared-doves only during authorized game bird seasons. It is unlawful to use or possess shot other than federally approved nontoxic shot for all game bird hunting. Camping is allowed Apr. 1 - Oct. 31 only at Quesnel Park (Threemile Canyon, Mi post 151) within the posted safety zone; not to exceed 7 days in any consecutive 14-day period.

Port of Morrow RHA

Maps available at RHA entrance located by traveling north on Laurel Rd from exit 165 off I-84, 0.5 Mi east on Columbia Ave and

0.3 Mi southeast on Rippee Rd. No entry permit required and open 7 days per week Oct. 11 - Jan. 25. Area is open for hunting of game birds and Eurasian collared-doves only during authorized game bird seasons. It is unlawful to use or possess shot other than federally approved nontoxic shot. A map can be found here odfw.com/port-of-morrow-map

The Columbia Rvr and Port of Morrow RHAs near Boardman in Morrow Co provide opportunities for public access and hunting for upland game birds and waterfowl. These areas are also subject to year-round rd closures. The following are prohibited:

- Driving or being transported upon any area except for designated open rds.
- Hunting, entering, or shooting across closed areas and safety zones.
- Camping (use between 10 p.m. and 4 a.m.), except at Quesnel Park.
- Discharging rifles, handguns, or shotguns with slugs, except by specific ODFW authorization.
- Placing waterfowl hunting sites closer than 200 yards apart.
- Leaving decoys set out overnight (10 p.m. to 4 a.m.).
- Digging pit blinds.

Because of landowner concerns for safety and maintenance of agricultural operations, some areas may be temporarily closed. Hunter numbers will be limited if crowding occurs.

UCAP

It is Unlawful to:

- Use a motorized vehicle on fields, trails and posted roads.
- Hunt any posted safety zone or enter any "NO PUBLIC ACCESS" area.
- Build or use open fires without landowner permission.
- Use rifles, handguns or shotguns with slugs on any hunt area unless specific authorization has been given by the landowner.

Hunt By Reservation

This private-land access program provides hunters a chance to reserve specific hunting dates in advance through either an online lottery or a first-come, first-served booking calendar. Hunt dates and group size are limited to reduce crowding and emphasize safety in the field. While the program focuses on wild turkey hunting, hunting for other species is also available. Hunters receive property-specific rules, maps, and landowner contact information during the reservation process. For a list of properties and information about the lottery and first-come, first-served options, visit: myodfw.com/HBR

Species Highlight:

Ring-necked Pheasant

Ring-necked pheasants evolved in Asia over the course of human history to thrive around agriculture. When Judge Owen Denney, U.S. Consul General to Shanghai, China, arranged in 1881 to have a shipment of pheasants trapped near Shanghai, to be released in the Willamette Valley, the pheasants found near perfect habitat in the primitive patchwork of agriculture and weedy hedgerows. The success of Oregon's pheasants triggered similar efforts across North America as hunters experienced the thrill of pursuing this spectacular game bird.

Pheasant populations would rise and fall with U.S. foreign policy and geopolitical events. World War I caused a boom in wheat production across the West, but grain prices collapsed after the war. Farmers walked away from cultivated land, intensifying the effects of drought, leading to the Dust Bowl. Pheasant populations crashed as millions of acres of agriculture eroded in the wind. The creation of the Soil Conservation Service in 1935, now the NRCS, improved soil conservation practices, and pheasants responded.

World War II again increased demand for cereal grains, with farmers now incorporating toxic herbicides, insecticides, and chemical fertilizers, all to the detriment of pheasant populations. After the war when demand again fell, the NRCS responded with programs designed to remove grain fields from production, leading to a pheasant heyday in the U.S. with populations peaking in the 1950s through the 1970s.

In 1973, the U.S. made a huge grain export deal with the Soviet Union, prompting farmers to plant “fencerow to fencerow”, and causing pheasant populations to predictably decline with the lack of escape, nesting, and brooding cover. One year later, OPEC embargoed oil exports to the U.S. due to the Yom Kippur War, causing fuel prices to spike. By 1976, a U.S. embargo on grain exports to the Soviet Union in response to their invasion of Afghanistan caused grain prices to plummet. Pheasants responded to the less intensive agriculture in great numbers.

The Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) was first created by the 1985 Farm Bill to stabilize commodity prices and was quickly recognized for improving wildlife habitat, including pheasants. The program incentivizes farmers to replant formerly cropped, marginal land back into perennial cover.

After a turbulent century, today's farmers have learned to be very efficient to manage risk. Large field sizes and intense weed control maximize crop values but remove important perennial habitats and field edges. Improvements in irrigation efficiency have eliminated many grassy and weedy areas critical to pheasant production.

Some farming improvements have benefitted pheasants, such as the development of no-till farming. New cold-tolerant varieties of winter wheat can provide ground cover high enough for nesting and brood rearing much sooner than spring wheat. The development of machinery that allows harvest of wheat while leaving taller stubble means better cover after harvest.

Oregon's fertile Willamette Valley, once the core of the state's pheasant populations, became a bastion of grass seed production beginning in the mid-1980s, replacing wheat and other cereal grains. This landscape-level change led to the near collapse of western Oregon pheasants. Pheasants still thrive in eastern Oregon, primarily in the Columbia Basin and other places where they have access to edges of wetlands, crops, grasslands, and weedy ditches and fencerows.

While pheasant populations may have good years and bad years, two rules seem to hold true. First, more habitat equals more pheasants. Second, pheasants occupy an important place in the heart of the American upland game bird hunter.

Despite their status as an introduced species, pheasants are a powerful engine for conservation, from non-profit sporting organizations such as Pheasants Forever, to the highest level of policymakers driving Farm Bill conservation programs. The strong desire to see and pursue this beautiful game bird has motivated generations to conserve and create wildlife habitat while bringing economic benefit to rural communities. Pheasants are truly a “flagship” species in our agricultural ecosystems helping other species benefit from the habitat conserved on their behalf.

Protect Your Dog In The Outdoors

Protect Your Dog From Traps

It's rare but it happens, usually during winter when trapping activity is at its peak — a dog gets caught in a trap set for a bobcat or another furbearer. Dogs can be released safely from these traps, but some dogs are injured or die.

To reduce this risk, rules require that traps not be set within 50 feet of trails or 300 feet of campgrounds. But, dogs allowed to roam freely in the outdoors can still be at risk from traps. Here are some steps to take to reduce the risk:

- Remain in close contact with your bird dog.
- Carry a pair of wirecutters to release the dog from a snare.

It is unlawful to disturb or remove the traps or snares of any licensed trapper while that person is legally trapping on public lands or on private lands with landowner permission. If you believe a trap or snare has been illegally set, contact Oregon State Police.

Like hunting, trapping is an important wildlife management tool.

Don't Let Your Dog Chase Wildlife

It's dangerous for your dog, and against the law, because it harms wildlife — especially during the winter, when dogs can put more pressure on vulnerable animals trying to conserve energy.

State law prohibits people from allowing their pets to “harass” (chase, molest, worry, disturb) wildlife, except when hunting or during pursuit seasons. (Pursuit season is Sept. 1 - Jan. 31 for wild hatched upland birds. There is no pursuit season for sage-grouse, sharp-tailed grouse, or spruce grouse.) See wildlife area regulations for information on training dogs at wildlife areas.

Raw Fish and Stagnant Water — Dangerous for Dogs

Don't let your dog eat raw salmon. It can carry the bacteria that causes deadly salmon poisoning disease (SPD) in dogs. Dogs can become severely ill when they eat fish with bacteria.

Signs of SPD in a dog are a high fever within 5-7 days of eating fish, lack of appetite, depression, dehydration, vomiting, and watery/bloody diarrhea. Seek immediate veterinary care if you think your dog has SPD — most dogs die if left untreated. (Care usually requires specific antibiotics to kill the bacteria, a wormer and intravenous rehydration.)

Freeze fish at -4 degrees F (-20 degrees C) for 24 hours or thoroughly cook it to kill the bacteria that cause SPD.

Stagnant water is another threat to dogs as it can harbor the bacteria leptospirosis. Signs of this infection in dogs are fever, reluctance to move due to joint or muscle pain, decreased appetite, weakness, vomiting and diarrhea, discharge from nose and eyes, frequent urination and jaundice.

Antibiotics can treat this infection if it is caught in time. Also talk to your vet about a vaccine that is available for some strains of leptospirosis.

Caution: Wolves and Hunting Dogs

Encounters between wolves and hunting dogs are rare. But wolves are by nature territorial and may act aggressively toward dogs. Hunters who use dogs can take steps to reduce the risk of conflict between dogs and wolves:

- Keep your dogs within view. Place a bell or beeping collar on wider ranging dogs.
- Talk loudly to the dog or other hunters
- Use whistles or otherwise control your dog so that it stays close to you. (You want wolves to associate the dog with a human.)
- If wolves are present or fresh wolf sign is observed, keep dogs close, which may require using a leash.

For more information on wolves in Oregon, please visit ODFW's website at odfw.com/wolves.

Keep Your Dog Up To Date on Vaccinations

Wildlife can carry diseases that affect dogs — like canine distemper virus, parvovirus, adenovirus, and rabies. These pose a threat to unvaccinated pets. Visit your vet and get your dog up to date on vaccinations before outdoors season.

The Wildlife Restoration Program funds projects and programs to enhance your outdoor experience, using an excise tax from purchase on:

- Firearms and ammunition
- Bows and arrow components

Since 1939, Oregon has received over $250 million to support numerous programs, such as:

- » 11 State Wildlife Area acquisitions
- » Wildlife Area operations and maintenance
- » Hunter Education Programs
- » Wildlife Research
- » Wildlife Habitat Programs

Avian influenza, or "bird flu," is a respiratory disease of birds caused by influenza A viruses. Wild birds can carry and spread these viruses but may show no signs of illness.

Although avian influenza viruses rarely infect people, you should still protect yourself:

- Do not harvest or handle wild birds that are obviously sick or found dead.
- Always wear disposable gloves when handling or cleaning game and wash hands with soap and water immediately afterward.
- Dress game birds in a location away from poultry and other birds and bag the carcass for disposal. Disinfect all tools and work surfaces.
- Clothing and boots used in hunting wild birds should be changed before handling live poultry.
- Cook game meat thoroughly.
- Report dead wild birds to ODFW 866-968-2600 or email Wildlife.Health@odfw.oregon.gov

For more information about avian influenza, go to aphis.usda.gov/

Hunter Ethics

As a hunter, you are responsible to adopt and follow a personal code of ethics that reflects your values and your respect for wildlife, hunting and pass on the sport of hunting to those who come after you. Remember the following points to help ensure the future of Oregon's hunting heritage.

Respect Landowners

- Ask for permission to hunt well before you plan on hunting.
- Leave all gates the way you find them.
- Follow all landowner restrictions.
- Offer to share part of your harvest with the landowner.

Respect the Resource

- Leave the land better than you found it.
- Adhere to fair chase rules.
- Know your capabilities and limitations as a marksman.
- Harvest no more than you will use, and take care of what you take.
- Abide by game laws and regulations.

Report hunting violations to the Oregon State Police at 1-800-452-7888 or dial *OSP (*677).

Respect Others

- Follow safe firearm handling practices and insist your hunting partners do the same.

Be Safe – Be Seen.

RESERVATION AND CONTROLLED HUNTS

How the Controlled Hunt Drawing Works for Game Birds

Each controlled hunt application is assigned a unique seven-digit random number. A seven-digit seed number is drawn for each hunt series, which serves as a starting point for determining which applications successfully draw a permit/reservation for each hunt within each series.

Hunting parties are maintained by the computer and only the party leader's 7-digit number is used in the drawing.

Permits/Reservations are awarded beginning with the applicant whose 7-digit number matches (or is closest to and above) the start number.

The selection continues with the applicant having the next higher number and continues until all available permits/reservations are awarded.

Permits/Reservations are assigned to first choice applicants as above until all permits/reservations are assigned or all first choices are filled. Permits/Reservations are only assigned to second choice applicants after all first choices have been filled. This sequence is followed for 3rd, 4th and 5th choices.

To Apply

1. Get a hunting license. You must have a valid hunting license to apply, or purchase at the time of application. Nonresidents: A three day bird hunting license is NOT valid to apply for controlled game bird hunts; a regular nonresident hunting license is required.
2. Decide if applying as an individual or in a party. Parties must assign ONE person as the Party Leader. You must indicate whether you are applying as a party member or party leader. The party leader must apply before the party member(s). Party members must include the party leader's ODFW ID# on their applications, and the party leader's choices will apply to the entire group.

3. Complete your application. Apply online from your own device or visit any license agent. The application period opens July 1. Verify that all information entered is what you requested before the transaction is completed. No permits/reservations will be issued because of agent error. It is the hunter's responsibility to ensure accuracy of applications. The license agent will give you an application receipt showing your hunt choices. You should check it for accuracy prior to leaving the license agent and keep it for proof of application.

Party Size (Includes Party Leader)

- *Fern Ridge WA - 1 (no parties)
- Sauvie Island WA - 4
- Klamath WA - 4
- Sage-grouse - 4

The party leader's hunt choices will be used for the entire party. All members must list the same choices as the party leader on their individual application. If successful, all party members will receive the same hunt choice as the party leader.

- * Fern Ridge successful applicants will receive a permit valid for self and one guest.

OREGON GAME BIRD STAMPS

2025 Oregon Waterfowl Stamp

Ring-necked Duck by Jeffrey Klinefelter

2025 Oregon Upland Game Bird Stamp

California Quail by Buck Spencer

Game bird stamps are not automatically mailed to hunters. Game bird validations are printed on the hunting license, so it is no longer required that state hunting stamps be carried in the field. As a courtesy for several years ODFW had continued to mail the stamps to hunters each spring. However, some hunters are not interested in receiving the stamps. Hunters with game bird validations can request stamps at no additional charge.

To request your game bird stamp(s), complete the on-line application: dfw.state.or.us/resources/hunting/waterfowl/stamp_order_form.asp

Art Prints Available for Purchase!

The sale of prints helps fund game bird research, surveys, habitat improvement, and conservation projects. See dfw.state.or.us/stamp_contest/ or call 503-947-6301 for more information.
